SPECIAL NOTICES.

A1.—

THE UNIVERSITY MEDICINES,
being the favorite prescriptions of the New York Medical University, an incorporated institution of the State. Reliable remedials, of high scientific character, prepared strictly according to the laws of chemistry. They are made upon the square, and can be relied on. They are standard—most of them having been used by the Professors of the University in their private practice for over twenty years. What may seem almost incredible is the fact that they cure diseases hitherto considered incurable. We are daily receiving letters from every part of the country, from patients, physicians and distinguished men and women, recording the most astounding cures performed by these remedies. Many of these cases had been considered beyond the power of cure. We wish we could publish these letters for the encouragement of the afflicted; but a book of a thousand pages would not contain those which we have permission to use. There never has been a success like this system of medicines. They are not patent medicines. They are rapidly superseding the old poisons, nostrums and nauseous drugs, and their sale is becoming enormous.

I.—COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT OF CANCER PLANT.—This plant, the most powerful remedial for the cure of Blood and Skin Diseases ever discovered in Materia Medica, is an immediate and permanent curative for all Scrofulous, Cancerous and Eruptive Maladies. The Cancer Plant is sold upon the following warrantee, viz:—As a Blood Purifier. One bottle of this extract is guaranteed to possess more real virtue than one dozen bottles of any Sarsaparilla or Alterative extant. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

II.—OXYD-PHENYL. Professor Scott's recently discovered cure for Deafness is daily curing cases of impaired hearing formerly regarded as hopelessly incurable. During the past year it has cured several hundred patients at an infinitesimal cost, many of whom had previously tried almost everything, and expended incredible amounts of money without benefit. Relief is immediate and permanent, and it can be used with safety by all. See editorial notices of this great modern chemical discovery in nearly every paper in America and Europe. Price $2 per package (with book), or two packages for $5.

III.—CATARRH SPECIFIC. Cures the most formidable cases of catarrh in existence almost instantaneously. Warranted to cure constant hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose, offensive breath, "stuffy," or "stopped up" feeling in the head and discharge of thick, thin or acrid mucus from the nostrils. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

IV.—HYDRATED OXYMEL. Our perfected remedial for the cure of pulmonary consumption, bronchitis, coughs, &c. Heals tubercles, allays night sweats, subdues cough and restores strength. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

V.—PILE EXTRACT. The Never Failing Pile Cure has cured cases of blind and bleeding piles of forty years' duration. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

VI.—FLUID EXTRACT OF YELLOW JESSAMINE. This is almost a specific in every form of heart disease, and is employed by many of our leading physicians in regular practice. It cures palpitation, valvular derangement and enlargement or wasting of the heart. Price $2 per package (with book, or three packages for $5.

VII.—NEURALGO-RHEUMATIC ELIXIR. Guaranteed to cure Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout and Sciatica 95 times out of every 100. One bottle often gives perfect relief. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

VIII.—CHEMICAL HEALING BLOOD-AND-BONE OINTMENT. The most powerful healing application known to science. Penetrates to the blood and bones, healing Ulcers, Sores, Swellings, Nodes, Blotches, &c. Price $1 per box, or six boxes for $5.

IX.—ETHEREAL PHOSPHORUS. The Radical Cure for Exhausted Vitality. Has Cured over One Thousand Cases of Organic Weakness. We confidently place our Remedy before the Public on the Guarantees of Science, Honor, Philanthropy—and on the square. Price $3 per package (with special book), or two packages for $5.

X.—LITHIA (Genuine). Cures Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys in forty-eight Hours and Upward. The Only True Diuretic Known to Medicine. Price $3 per package (with book), or two packages for $5.

XI.—INJECTION OF CHLORIDE OF GOLD. Cures infectious diseases. Cures recent cases in 24 hours. Cures old cases in one week. Price $3 per package (with book), or two packages for $5.

XII.—KATALPA EXTRACT. Woman's friend. The Infallible Emmenagogue. Restores the Menses and cures Falling of the Womb, &c. Price $3 per package. Extra strength, $5 (with book).

XIII.—VICTORIA REGIA. The imperial cosmetic. Imparts wondrous beauty to the complexion and cures moth-patches, freckles, blotches, pimples and black-heads in the skin. Price $2 per package (with book), or three packages for $5.

XIV.—AMARANTH; FOR THE HAIR. Hair beautifier, restorative and dressing. Stops falling hair instantaneously and causes rapid and luxuriant growth of the hair, whiskers and mustache. Warranted to contain no lead, sulphur or poison. Price $1 per bottle (with book), or six bottles for $5.

FROM OUR LETTER FILE.
The following certificates, out of many thousands, are appended in order to show the efficacy, masterly power and superiority of the University Medicines.

I.
SURGEON GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, March 10, 1869.
PROFESSORS—Please forward my second order of University Medicines. I am pleased to say that I have found them of great service in the treatment of patients under my charge. GEORGE REED, M. D., A. A. Surgeon, U. S. A.

II.
The following is from the most distinguished physician of Georgia, whose name will be readily recognized:—
SAVANNAH, Ga., March 21, 1869.
DEAR DOCTOR—Employing the University Medicines in my practice, and being familiar with their composition, I have no hesitancy in saying that they surpass anything that I have ever prescribed, and need only to be made known to the people to drive the patent medicine trash out of market. GEORGE TRIPPE, M. D.

III.
From the well known, eminent Dr. Buckler Jones.
BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 17, 1869.
I have a lady under my care with cancer in the left breast. I recommended her to use your remedies, and with the most marked benefit and decided improvement in every respect. J. BUCKLER JONES, M. D.
We have some six hundred similar recommendatory letters from physicians of all schools, who are employing the University Medicines in practice.

IV.
DR. SCOTT AND ASSOCIATES—I received from your institution, some eight weeks ago, one bottle of your Catarrh Specific for myself and one bottle of Katalpa Extract for my wife, and I can say that both of them have done all they claimed to do. One application of the Catarrh Specific, full strength, did more good than all I had ever used before, and I had tried almost everything. The Katalpa Extract has also given perfect satisfaction. Enclosed find $25, for which send me the following University Medicines for friends. MAY 1, 1869. A. D. ALLEN, Bath, Me.

V.
DRS. SCOTT, &c.—For years I suffered with cancer of the left breast. What my sufferings were tongue can never tell. In a dying condition I came to you and commenced using your Cancer Plant and Ointment. Almost immediately all pain ceased. The tumor has vanished, and through the providence of God I am again a well woman. In my deep gratitude, and from a sincere interest in the welfare of those similarly afflicted, I shall be pleased to answer all questions. NEW YORK, Oct. 22, 1869. Miss L. CAREY.

VI.
DR. SCOTT—I have received your valuable Catarrh Specific and confidently state that I am nearly cured. I no cough much now, and breathe fully. I have tried innumerable remedies and doctored a great deal for catarrh; but from none have I experienced such relief as from three bottles of your Catarrh Specific. JOHN BATES, 437 Penn street. READING, Sept. 10, 1869.

VII.
The Ethereal Phosphorus you sent me has cured myself and friend. C. R. HOWE, Trenton, N. J. OCT. 20, 1869.

VIII.
Four bottles of your Ethereal Phosphorus have acted very strengthening to my system. Send me four more. P. R. KINZEL, 76 Temple street, Hartford, Conn.

IX.
We send $15 for Victoria Regia. My face is a great deal better, and I am continuing its use until cured. Miss E. J. BULLY, Wallingford, Conn.

X.
Prof. Scott—SI send $10. Send four packages Ethereal Phosphorus. I continue to be greatly benefited. I wish you God speed in your efforts to harmonize science and medicine. SEPT. 14, 1869. Prof. R. KEITH, Georgetown, D. C.

XI.
Your Lithia has cured my kidney disease of eighteen years' standing. JAMES PIERSON, JAN. 11, 1870. A. A. S., U. S. A., Los Angeles, Cal.

XII.
Your Victoria Regia is an admirable article. It cured my son of salt rheum and made his face smooth as satin. OCT. 13, 1869. Mrs. ELIZA A. FOWLER, Guilford, Conn.

XIII.
Your Specific cured me of that loathsome disease, Catarrh, after all other remedies had failed. Dr. R. E. MURR, Newburg, N. Y. FEBRUARY 28, 1870.

XIV.
Three bottles of your Hydrated Oxymel cured me of consumption, although our Bridgeport physicians said I could not be cured. GEORGE D. REYNOLDS, Metallic Cartridge Company, Bridgeport, Conn. MARCH 1, 1870.

XV.
Thirteen bottles of your Cancer Plant have cured my wife of the worst type of scrofula, of twenty years' duration. Rev. FREDERICK GARRISON, Brooklyn, N. Y. OCTOBER 29, 1869.
And thousands of others, on file for the inspection of the incredulous.

STALLIONS.

ARABIAN STALLION FOR SALE.—THE PURE Arabian Horse SAID is for sale on reasonable terms as his present owner has no use for him. To breeders he will be a most valuable acquisition. The following pedigree gives the purity of his blood, with other interesting facts relating to his career:—
SAID (also spelled Sayed), as given by the groom of Nubar Pasha, Minister to France from Egypt, was foaled on the 27th of March, 1863, at the stables of Nubar Pasha. His sire was the famous Khorassan, the property of Abdul Medjid. Said's dam was Oblan, the property of Nubar Pasha, and is the descendant of the celebrated Janizear, which leaped the citadel walls with the last Mameluke Bey when fleeing from Mahomed Ali in 1819. Therefore, Said is a cross between the Nedjid breed on the mother's side and the Anazeh breed on the side of Khorassan.
This grand Arab stallion exhibited wonderful powers of endurance and speed in the Abyssinian war, being ridden constantly by an officer during that campaign.
Said will be exchanged for a fast and improving young trotting horse.
For further particulars apply to Mr. FOSTER, at the office of Wilkes' Spirit of the Times.

FINANCIAL.

AIR LINE BONDS.

CONNECTICUT INVESTORS

will find the First Mortgage bonds of the New Haven, Middletown and Willimantic Railroad Company the most desirable form of investment now offered in the market.

The Bonds are exempt from every form of State or local taxation and from the United States income tax.

The average saving thus made will amount to two and one-half per cent, which, added to the interest received, makes them equal to a bond paying nine and one-half per cent, and this rate of income is not affected by a decline in gold.

The bonds are issued only as the work progresses, and for but one-half of the actual cash expenditures on the road. They are secured by a first mortgage on all the property of the company, of whatever kind. The State of Connecticut is made trustee for the bondholders, and every bond must be issued from the office of and be countersigned by the Comptroller. They are issued in denominations of $500 and $1,000, are coupon or registered, have twenty years to run, and are payable, principal and interest, in New York. The bonds are offered at par and interest.

The press and public give a unanimous verdict in favor of this magnificent emotional comedy. The Herald says:—"Frou-Frou is one of the most dramatic comedies and one of the most characteristic dramas that has been produced for many a year." The Tribune calls it a "perfect play perfectly acted." The Times says:—"The absorbing interest of the play is kept up to its close." The World calls it "an exquisite performance." The Sun and the Sunday Mercury report that "Frou-Frou" is an overwhelming success!
At the matinee on Saturday the crush of ladies was so great that the musicians had to vacate their seats, and the overflowing audience had to be accommodated with chairs in the orchestra.

PROPOSALS.

NOTICE TO STONE CONTRACTORS.
Proposals for furnishing the city of Boston with Stone Paving Blocks.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Streets, City Hall, Boston, Mass., until March 17, 1870, for supplying the city of Boston with Stone Paving Blocks during the year 1870, the blocks to be of the following dimensions, viz.:—

Width, 3½ to 4½ in.
Length, 6 to 8 in.
Depth, 7 to 8 in.

All the edges to be sharp and straight, forming right angles at their intersections both horizontally and vertically. The faces to be straight split, and free from bunches or depressions.

Proposals to state the price per thousand blocks, delivered on such wharf in the city proper, South and East Boston, as may be designated from time to time by the Superintendent of Streets. Also, the number of blocks which the proposer will deliver per month during the year. A sample of the blocks must accompany the proposal.

Proposals to be addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Proposals for furnishing city of Boston with stone paving blocks."

The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.
GEO. O. CARPENTER,
Chairman Committee on Paving.

GOLD 112¾.—Yesterday gold declined to 112¾, but thence underwent a sharp reaction, recovering at the close of street dealings to 114¼.

SPEECHES were delivered yesterday before the House Committee on Naval Affairs for and against the proposed removal of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. By authority of the committee a bill has been prepared providing for the sale of the yard and the removal of its operations to some other point.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES yesterday passed a bill granting a pension, commencing from 1862, to a colored man who lost both his feet at the second battle of Bull run. Being a teamster at the time his name was not on the muster rolls. Opposition was made to the bill on the ground that it would set a precedent requiring an expenditure of two or three additional millions every year.

THE FIFTY MILLION CURRENCY PROPOSITION.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency, it appears, are puzzled to make out whether their instructions to report a bill providing for the addition of fifty millions to the national currency means that they shall provide for an issue of greenbacks or national bank notes, and that hence the character of their bill remains undetermined. Let them determine to postpone indefinitely any bill increasing the present volume of our paper money, and they will hit the mark.

AFFAIRS IN WESTERN MEXICO.—The news from Mexico is of the usual description. Proclamations and murders go almost hand in hand. Assassinations are associated with robberies, and lawless proceedings are as numerous as ever. In Western Mexico the rebellion is making considerable headway under the leadership of Placido Vega, who at latest accounts was en route for Mazatlan. The foreign residents were preparing to meet the approach of the rebel general. Throughout the State of Sinaloa assassinations and robberies are being committed indiscriminately by the guerillas.

The Gold Market—The Funding Bill in Congress.

The continued decline in gold is causing a great deal of speculation and anxiety as to how far it is likely to go—whether it will come to par with currency—and what will be the consequences. Of course those who are in debt or who have large stocks of goods or securities on hand which have been purchased at high currency prices are trembling, while the creditor class of the community are exulting at the prospect. Every one argues upon the probable future course of the gold market according to his wishes or interests. Nor is it easy to form an opinion as to how far gold may decline or what reaction may take place. At the present time there is a plethora of the precious metals in the great financial centres of Europe. They have been accumulating largely in the Banks of England and France, and money is so abundant that it is loaned at two and a half per cent interest. This plethora and the exportation of United States securities abroad, with the large amount of products exported, prevent a drain of gold from this side. Here is the real secret of the fall of gold just now. As long as the cotton crop and other products are going out and a large amount of bonds are exported to balance the trade against us there will be no demand for gold. Another cause is found, too, for the equalization of trade and value of the precious metals in the operation of the telegraph, which brings the commercial nations of Europe and the United States in instant communication. But we have yet to see to what extent and how long the exportation of our products and bonds will pay for our importations. If we knew that we might form an opinion as to the price of gold in the future. We must not forget that the more bonds go abroad the larger the debt on the other side becomes—the greater will be the demand for specie hereafter to pay the interest. At the same time should peace continue in Europe and money remain so abundant there, large sums may be sent to this country for investment, and thus help to increase our products. It is not wise, therefore, to jump at conclusions from the present state of things.

It has been said that the efforts made in Congress to fund the debt have also had an effect upon the gold market; but we think that is not so. The credit of the government has been raised by other causes. The high rate of interest the debt bears has been one of the principal causes of that extraordinary demand for our bonds abroad which has stopped the outward flow of gold. Should Mr. Sherman's Funding bill—which reduces the rate of interest—be passed we may see another state of things. No one can tell what the immediate effect would be; nor can we yet say in what shape the bill will be passed, if passed at all. The discussion of it in the Senate seems interminable. Few Senators understand the subject. Nearly every one has a different plan for funding the debt. There seems to be great difficulty in agreeing upon any measure. Perhaps the best thing that has been said in the Senate during the debate was by that practical old Senator Simon Cameron. He remarked that the consideration of the question should be postponed for a year. Looking at the want of knowledge on this important matter in Congress, at the steady decline of gold and at the financial prospect before us, this course, probably, would be the best. Funding the debt is a measure of such great importance that sufficient time should be allowed to bring it to maturity. Nor is there any necessity for immediate action. The national finances are in a good condition and will not suffer by the delay.

The principal object in this Funding bill seems to be the reduction of interest on the debt. To this end three classes of new securities or consols are proposed as a substitute for the present bonds of different denominations, or to be put on the market for furnishing the means to extinguish the different forms of indebtedness now existing. First, four hundred millions of ten-twenties—that is, bonds redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the government at any time after ten years and payable in coin twenty years from date—are to be issued, bearing five per cent interest. These are to be used for the redemption of the existing five-twenties, bearing six per cent interest, but can only be exchanged at par. So, in point of fact, the proposition is limited to an exchange of ten-twenty five per cents for five-twenty six per cents. This is a good proposition if it can be carried out, for one per cent interest would be saved. The inducement offered to bondholders to exchange their six per cent bonds for five per cents is in the longer time the latter will have to run, in the exemption from taxation by national, State, municipal or local authority, and in the coupons being made conveniently payable at different points abroad as well as at home. Second, another class of bonds or consols are to be issued, bearing four and a half per cent interest, to the amount of four hundred millions, on the same conditions, and these are to be fifteen-thirties. The supposition is that bonds having fifteen years to run before redemption and then payable in coin at the pleasure of the government thirty years from date, would be as good as the six per cents now due, or about to become due. Third, four hundred millions more at four per cent interest, and having from twenty to forty years to run, are to be issued, with the same restrictions as to the exchange of them or the price at which they may be sold. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized, however, to issue any additional amount of these twenty-forties for the redemption of the outstanding debt, provided no increase in the aggregate debt of the United States be made in consequence of the new issues.

We see, therefore, that not only the twelve hundred millions expressly mentioned may be issued for the redemption or exchange of existing securities at par, but that the balance of the debt may be so transformed by the Secretary of the Treasury. The funding of the whole debt by this process, therefore, is contemplated. The question arises here, will the holders of the unmatured debt bearing six per cent interest surrender it at par, or take bonds for it bearing five, four and a half and four per cent interest without a premium? Will the people or capitalists, at home or abroad, take, in any case, these new bonds at par when they bear a lower rate of interest. Great efforts have been made by the financial doctors at Washington to send bonds up, or, as they call it, to raise the credit of the government, before buying up or transforming the debt. In other words, they have been trying to make that dear which they want to get at the cheapest rate. The Funding bill, like every financial measure of Congress, has in view the extension and perpetuation of the national bank system. That system, to use Old Benton's language, is in the belly of the bill. As a matter of course the greenback currency is to be pushed out of existence. Then there is a monstrous big job in the way of percentage to agents for manipulating the debt in its transformation. Congress began at the wrong end. We should have had a uniform legal tender circulation and several hundred millions of the interest-bearing debt wiped out by that. The whole tendency of the financial legislation of Congress is to increase the wealth of the bondholders and national banks, and to lay heavier burdens upon the people.

The Democratic Row—Some Would-be Leaders.

The copperhead organ yesterday called the roll and had a dress parade of its great men. It recited with tender epithets the virtues of Governor Seymour, whom it stabbed under the fifth rib just before the last Presidental election. It called especial attention to the silk stockings of Sammy Tilden. It appealed warmly for consideration of the "liberality" of August Belmont. It stirred up daintily and with a long pole Governors Church and Beach. Well, what of all that? We also admire Governor Seymour, and are of opinion that he is an excellent member of the Dairymen's Association. As for Sammy Tilden, he is as satisfactory a political Mother Hubbard as we know, only we have a notion that the dog will certainly be dead before he comes with the bone. We admire Belmont also, and can conscientiously say that, considering him all over and through and through, position, character, race and history, he is the most astonishing head for a democratic party, as we know it, the world ever saw.

But what is the especial point in this array? Why are the noble animals trotted out and fed just now? They seem to come out on this text: The HERALD has "teemed for several days with the vilest epithets levelled at the heads of Sheriff O'Brien, Senators Genet, Creamer and Norton, and Congressmen Morrissey and Fox." But what, in the name of the great panjandrum, have Seymour, Tilden and Belmont to do with Morrissey, O'Brien, Genet and Norton? Did Tilden ever handle a shillelah? And what sort of a ballot box stuffer would Belmont make? And how would the bucolic Seymour shine in the P. R.? These are strange associations. The secret of them seems to be this: The HERALD, believing that power in the democratic party was about in its last stronghold of decency—that if it fell from the hands that now hold it into the hands of those that most urgently seek it evil would certainly come to the community—deprecated such an event, and in so doing characterized as it deemed fit the roughs, strikers and others who essay to rule us. The copperhead organ comes to their rescue and spreads itself to state the political virtues of the opponents of "the ring." Behold the conclusion! It runs over the names of Morrissey, O'Brien, Norton and Genet, and then gives a paragraph apiece to Belmont, Seymour, Tilden, Church and Beach. There is no paragraph to laud the genius of O'Brien; none to dwell warmly on the achievements of Morrissey; not a word for the little brilliancies of Norton. Is the greatness of these men unknown to the copperhead muse? Are their accomplishments thus to be quietly left out of sight? Are they to be nowhere when leaders are discussed?

The copperhead organ speaks for Tilden and company; but it speaks a language not known to the adherents of Jimmy O'Brien. It is laying pipe for the alliance of its gentle carpet knights with the head-breaking and ballot-box stuffing worthies of many a political fray; but it counts without any host. In fact, the roughs and political desperadoes mean business, and they don't mean Sammy Tilden. They mean the spoils, and have a noble contempt for silk stockings. They have their little idea that as Peter Bismarck Sweeny and Big Six Tweed were the followers and pupils of Fernando the First and have made their millions, so they want to be the followers in turn of Sweeny and Tweed and make their millions also. They are after the scalps of these big braves, therefore—and the spoils—and they do not propose to divide with the political dilettanti. However pleasant an alliance might be in Tilden's view, the fellows with whom the row originates will have none of it. If these fellows throw off the restraint of Sweeny, Hall and the rest, will they put themselves in leading strings to Tilden and Belmont? That would be to throw away the victory.

If these strikers for the spoils accomplish their purpose by changing the democratic dynasty here, they will have no such deadheads as Tilden to share the plunder of their hard fight. That is one result to which the copperhead organ may make up its mind. Another result will be that we shall have no new Charter, and we shall find ourselves indeed all the worse for the victory that gave the State to the democrats. Indeed, when the republican politicians hold the State and the democratic politicians the city, in that hostility and chronic disagreement of rogues there was a little chance for honest men; but with a happy harmony between the rogues all around the honest man's last little chance will be gone.

MORE RECONSTRUCTION.—There was a lively debate over the Georgia Reconstruction bill in the House of Representatives yesterday. Ben Butler spoke in its favor, and in the course of his remarks alluded to Tennessee, and said that he proposed to very soon bring the attention of the House and country to that State, where hundreds of men were being murdered weekly. Mr. Farnsworth denounced the Georgia bill as intended to prolong the tenure of office of those representatives from that State who had served in the previous Congress, and expressed the opinion that Congress had got itself far enough in a muddle with its reconstruction legislation. If there is one thing more than another that inclines us to oppose any further meddling with the Southern States it is the frightful stories of murder, robbery and desolation which will be published in the radical newspapers as soon as they are taken in hand. Let us reflect for a moment on the horrors of a nightmare.

The Missing Steamers.

We are still without tidings from either of the missing steamers, the City of Boston and the Smidt. The former left this city on the 25th of January last, and Halifax on the 28th for Liverpool, since which day nothing has been heard of her. The Smidt left Bremen on the 21st of January, bound for this port, and since that date there has been no report of her whereabouts. Thirty-six days for the City of Boston and forty-three for the Smidt, and no tidings of either, are figures calculated to excite grave apprehensions concerning the safety of both ships. It is indeed surmised that, coming from opposite directions, they have, perhaps, both been destroyed by a collision between the two vessels in the dark. The Board of Underwriters at London have declined any further risks on the City of Boston; but the underwriters of this city and the agents of the Boston and the Smidt still believe in their safety.

We think, too, there are some very good reasons for this opinion. Captain Hoffres, of the bark E. A. Kennedy, which arrived yesterday at Boston from Liverpool, reports having passed a steamer in latitude 48, longitude 35. She was lying still, heading west northeast, and to all appearance was in good condition. Although she was headed in the opposite direction to that which the City of Boston would take on her voyage, it is not impossible that she was the missing steamer. But aside from the hope which this intelligence holds out, it will be remembered that some fifteen or sixteen years ago the Collins steamer Atlantic was at sea five or six weeks without any tidings of her, but that when the most hopeful began to despair the good news came of her putting back and her safe arrival in Cork, though in a crippled condition from the shock of a heavy gale. Again, for the last thirty days or more the prevailing winds on this side the Atlantic have been heavy nor'westers, while on the other side they have been heavy and stormy from the eastward; so that within this strong interval the passages of all steamers and sailing ships both ways within the lines usually sailed between New York and Halifax on this side and the British islands on the other side have been passages unusually long. Very little hope, as we are informed, is entertained at Halifax of the City of Boston, in consequence of an unsuccessful search for her at Sable Island and thereabouts; but it is probable that, disabled by heavy gales, both the Smidt and the Boston may have drifted down, under the same pressure of winds and waves, to the Azores or Western Islands. At all events, till we hear from that quarter, if we hear nothing of them meantime, we shall hold to the opinion that both the missing steamers, though disabled, are most probably safe.

The Latest Tributes to Young America—The Russian Government and Anson Burlingame.

Time was when the United States had no thoughts beyond themselves. It was a young people of European stock, full of ancient traditions, yet forcefully impelled by new principles begotten of the causes which gave them an American home and of the more immediate causes which gave them a national life. Broad and undeveloped territory did not in the eyes of Europe compensate for the absence of numbers and wealth. When Franklin went to Europe and appeared at court he was no doubt outwardly honored; but he was really looked upon as almost any civilized company would now look upon Dominie Sampson or the father of Samuel Taylor Coleridge or Dr. Johnson, if any of those persons were suddenly to make his appearance among them. Externally honored, internally laughed at—that was the fact sixty years ago. But how we have bounded forward since then! With one or two foolish exceptions our representatives have maintained their republican simplicity at all the Courts of Europe. The plain black suit has grown in respect, and the American Minister has more and more been sought out and honored. Our late war opened the eyes of Europe and the world. It was felt everywhere that another and a greater Rome—with no chance for a Cæsar—had found an existence and a field for its development. Even far away China felt the force of the new and universal conviction, and Anson Burlingame was selected as its agent to visit the United States and the various governments of Europe, and to make an end, if possible, of that absurd and cruel system which called China barbarous, because China had some respect for its own time-honored past. The success of the mission justified the action of the Chinese government, while it did honor to the United States and to Anson Burlingame. At all the Courts of Europe the example of the United States has been imitated. The Embassy has been well received and its purposes have more or less been accomplished. It has been the fate of Anson Burlingame to die before his work was done. But greater men than he have died with an uncompleted task on their hands. It is something for his countrymen to be able to say that he began a good work and that he gave it good hope. It is better to be able to say that while he rests from his labors his works will follow him. Russia has all along, even in dark and sometimes hopeless days, been the good and steadfast friend of this people. The care taken of the remains, and the expressions of good feeling made to the family and friends of Mr. Burlingame, are not different from what we expected. We thank the Czar, we thank the Empress, we thank the Russian people. But as we looked for no more we are neither surprised nor disappointed.

THE NEW EXCISE BILL is fully as liberal as the democratic "boys" could wish. It provides convenient escapes from all the inconveniences that it imposes, so that, although it does not make it lawful to sell liquor on Sundays or election days, or between one o'clock and daylight of any night, it allows a generous margin by which the unlawful thing can be done with very little inconvenience. It has been prepared with an eye to the peculiar fitness of things that is not usually a legislative feature. It secures by license an annual income of about sixty or seventy thousand dollars, and this fund is to be devoted to the support of inebriate asylums. There could be nothing more appropriate than that. Indeed, considering the facilities for drunkenness and the appropriations for the asylums contained in the bill, it might have been fitly styled "A bill to foster and maintain inebriate asylums."

Indian Troubles Out West.

It seems to be a settled fact now that every spring we are to have reports of threatened hostilities on the part of the wandering redskins of the Plains, with the customary excuse of non-fulfilment of treaties. This spring is no exception to the rule, notwithstanding our despatches published this morning bring the intelligence that the tribes of the southwest, which had decided upon a war of extermination with the whites, have changed their policy and will remain quiet. Gratifying as this news is, we are not altogether assured of peace. Already one of the frontier commanders gives a gloomy description of the condition of affairs in his department. The Sioux Indians—one of the most powerful and dangerous tribes out West—complain bitterly of the deceit practised towards them by the Peace Commission. They ask, "Where are the houses you were going to build us? Where are the cows, the sheep, the pigs, &c.? But, above all, where are the guns and ammunition we were to receive?" This frontier commander—General Stanley—urges on the Washington authorities the importance of encouraging the friendly Sioux in every possible way. He says they have used all the means they could to induce their hostile brethren to come in and bury the hatchet. He recommends the faithful fulfilment of the treaties made with them by the Peace Commission. We fear very much that the unscrupulous traders and road agents who eke out an existence by cheating alike the government and its redskin protégés have neutralized all the efforts of the broadbrim philanthropists sent out on the Plains to establish friendly relations between the Indians and their Great Father. The only way to strike at the root of the evil is to punish or banish these mischievous rascals, who have been, beyond doubt, the cause of nearly every Indian war for years past. A considerable amount, if not all, of the appropriations made to our copper-colored friends by the government falls into the hands of these rapacious harpies, and the inevitable result is to drive the Indians on the warpath. If the Peace Commissioners and frontier commanders would only hang a few of these worthies they would do more to put a stop to the annual outrages which desolate the settlements of the far West than all the treaties in Christendom. The experiment is well worth trying.

Important to Office Seekers.

Applications for the position of United States District Attorney for Washington and the District of Columbia may be made to the Attorney General, to the President direct, or to any influential administration member of Congress. The place is understood to have been vacant for some time past, as no one has proceeded against the lobbyists, who are proved by General Logan to have been engaged in bribing government officials and liable under law of Congress approved February 26, 1853. We published the section in full in the HERALD of the 28th ultimo. It provides that if any person shall directly or indirectly offer or give any money, goods, bribe, present or reward, or any valuable thing, to any member of Congress, clerk, United States official or employé, high or low, for the purpose of influencing his action, the person so offering and the official receiving shall be liable to indictment as for high crime, and upon conviction thereof imprisoned in a penitentiary not exceeding three years. It is certainly high time that we had a District Attorney in Washington to attend to this business. The execution of the law is the strong point with the present administration. Let the President look to the matter at once.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH CANARDS.—The announcement recently made that the postal telegraph system had proved a failure in Great Britain is well understood to be canards put out in the interest of the Western Union monopoly. The fact is, the postal system has not been fairly tried in England. Less than a month ago the government took possession of the monopolists' wires and commenced the inauguration of the new system. The enormous increase of business brought suddenly upon the wires by the change has caused a little friction, and a few cases of delay have been reported. The monopolists are raising a howl over what they falsely term the failure of the postal system in England. The announcement in question contains falsehoods too numerous to mention, and its statements of fact are in every case grossly exaggerated. The object of its publication is to prejudice Congress against any change in the United States.

OUR NEW MINISTER TO LIBERIA.—The President yesterday nominated James W. Mason for the office of Minister Resident and Consul General at Liberia. Mr. Mason, although a mulatto, is a gentleman of fine education and a soldier of distinction. He was educated in Paris and served in the French army during the Crimean war, winning the rank of lieutenant colonel by his gallantry. In reinforcing the corps diplomatique from the corps d'Afrique President Grant has doubtless done well.

JERSEY CITY AS A PORT OF ENTRY.—A bill was quietly passed through the House of Representatives yesterday making Jersey City a port of entry. The enterprising men of Jersey think that this is all they want to make Jersey City a formidable rival of New York in imports and exports. The bill is certainly a measure of the highest importance to both cities, in profit or loss, and from its easy passage through the House there may be a probability of its passage by the Senate before the people generally on either side of the river know what it means.

NEW JERSEY GETTING PLUCKY.—The Camden and Amboy monopoly sustained a defeat in the New Jersey Legislature yesterday in an effort to kill a bill incorporating the Western Hunterdon Railroad Company. This is a promising sign, and if the Jerseymen only keep up their courage there is no telling but that they may be able to shortly reverse positions with the monopoly.

WHAT NEXT?—A bill has been introduced in the Legislature for an underground railroad from some one of the ferries in Brooklyn to East New York. If all the plans for underground railroads were put in operation New York and Brooklyn would soon be standing on stilts.

LARGE FIRE IN NEWARK.

Immense Destruction of Passaic River Front Properly Early This Morning—The Loss Estimated at Over $100,000.

One of the most destructive fires ever witnessed in Newark, N. J., broke out there last night, between eleven and twelve o'clock, among a group of buildings located on the Passaic river front, at the foot of Centre street, opposite the Centre street depot of the New Jersey Railroad, and owned by three New York capitalists, two of whom are named Cornish and Blood. The property is better known as that formerly owned by B. T. Nichols. It was purchased by its present owner for $200,000, and is directly in front of the Old Ward Hospital, where, in the course of an emeute during war times, two soldiers were shot.

The fire originated in the brick building occupied by William Macdonald as a planing mill and general wood work factory, and spread with remarkable rapidity to the adjacent buildings, some being constructed of wood and others of brick. The box factories of Mr. Simon and Mr. Headly soon became masses of fire, which communicated to the extensive trunk and valise factories of Mr. Logowitz, a brick building on the off corner to the left of the old hospital building. In the opposite direction, at half-past twelve this morning, when the HERALD reporter left the scene of the conflagration, several of the brick buildings had already fallen in, and the prospects then were that the fire would continue to defy the efforts of the entire Fire Department, which, with the exception of one engine (Minnehaha), was out and doing its utmost, under the direction of Chief Engineer Cornell. It is exceedingly difficult to estimate what the loss will be, inasmuch as the fire is still burning as fierce as ever at this writing (two o'clock A. M.), but it will certainly exceed $100,000.

The extent of the fire may be imagined when it is stated that in Elizabeth, four miles off, the illumination was so brilliant that pins almost might be picked from the streets. The houses for ten miles around at least, in every direction, were brilliantly illuminated.

Despite the hour thousands of citizens thronged the surroundings of the conflagration.

Luckily the 11:45 passenger train for New York was not detained, as it was enabled to cross the river over the new iron bridge at the foot of Market street.

FIRE IN FORTY-SEVENTH STREET.

A Four Story Brown Stone Dwelling House Destroyed—Loss $25,000.

Late last night a fire occurred in the new four story and basement brown stone house No. 7 East Forty-seventh street. The house was new and but just finished, and it is supposed the fire originated from a furnace used for drying the building. The loss is estimated at $25,000; insured. The house belonged to Andrew J. Jarvey, and was insured for $30,000.

THE GOLD TUMBLE.

Experience on 'Change Nowadays—The Bellied Bulls and Bears—Gold Down to 112 7-8.

The decline in gold was the great topic yesterday in Wall street. A feeling prevailed for several days before that the standard of values, if it might be so called, would enter upon an upward course and bob around in the neighborhood of 120. It touched 112⅝ before the day closed. The persistent tendency, however, of gold to descend caused all the excitement which made the Gold Room yesterday the scene of as much turmoil as characterized the famous days of the latter part of last September. All the bulls could do failed to affect the heavy gravity of gold. The Gold Room was a place of most extraordinary excitement. The familiar fountain in the centre of that great resort of the untamable bulls and bears plashed as peacefully as usual and sent its freshening volumes of spray over the weary and tired loungers who hung round its border. The way the bulls and bears behaved yesterday would have confounded the most intelligent foreigner. They literally danced and howled, roared fiercely at each other, as if each was about to fly at the other's throat, shouted louder than it was thought possible human lungs could withstand, and otherwise behaved in a very bewildering and delirious manner. It was generally admitted that the tendency of gold was downwards; but few, however, gave credit to the notion that it was about to descend at once to par. To remark that point it was easy enough to perceive that fifty different causes lay in the way—the small share of bullion in the Treasury, the likelihood of imports exceeding the figures at which they have been recorded in the last quarter, the suspense felt in regard to congressional legislation and other things that make an element in the aggregate influence. Nevertheless, a belief appeared to prevail that gold was destined to go to 100 in a rush, and, as a consequence, much trepidation was felt among those who held imported stocks purchased at a higher rate than 120. Yet, after all, it may be safely set down that our merchants, who feel themselves somewhat imperilled by this rapid and low decline of gold, are better satisfied, though they may suffer in the ordeal, to see our finances tending quickly to their normal basis than if they had to wait the tedious process of governmental resumption of specie payments.

The spectators' gallery of the Gold Exchange was crowded to suffocation with anxious or curious outsiders. In the pit below, or, in other words, in the arena where the gold brokers fell like a set of devils, all the interest centred. The din was perfectly terrific. A pantomime of Fox's, with all the harum scarem elements exaggerated, gives but a faint idea of the utter confusion, the madness controlled by method, that characterizes the Gold Room. They shouted across the fountain space like so many maniacs challenging each other to more than mortal combat. They did not tear their hair or pull their fancy whiskers to pieces, but they strained their vocal powers to breaking. The spectators were as much excited as the operators, and if they only had a little training in the ways of the place might have gone in as ardently as the others.

At the Cotton Exchange there was a good deal of excitement also; for, sympathizing with gold the great Southern staple had declined several cents per pound, and many brokers were unusually exercised in the endeavor to dispose of their orders to advantage. Gold will continue to foster excitement some time longer in Wall street before it is finally quieted and brought to its legitimate level.

Parliamentary Progress—San Juan and Its Cost—The Money Dealers and Postal Telegraphs.

LONDON, March 4, 1870.

The House of Lords held a brief session to-day. The proceedings were unimportant.

In the House of Commons Lord Elcho gave notice of a motion to the effect that the government project for maintaining the army reserve, as outlined by the War Secretary yesterday, is unsatisfactory.

Mr. Otway, Under Secretary for the Foreign Department, referring to the San Juan boundary controversy, said ten years' occupancy of the island of San Juan had cost the government £22,000, besides salaries and other charges.

The House engaged in a prolonged discussion of the naval estimates, which was followed by a debate on the malt tax.

Mr. Lowe, Chancellor of the Exchequer, demonstrated the advantage of a malt tax over a beer tax. The former was simple in its provisions, while the latter was complicated on account of the great variety of qualities in the article taxed.

Without taking action on either subject the House adjourned.

The Postmaster General made another explanation in regard to the unsatisfactory condition of the postal telegraph service. He ascribed the delays at London and Liverpool, which had caused so much complaint, to the right of priority conceded to members of the Stock Exchange, for whose convenience other correspondence had to wait.

MEXICO.

Progress of the Rebellion in Western Mexico—The National Government Ignored—More Proclamations, Raids, Assassinations, Murders and Robberies.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4, 1870.

Advices from Mazatlan, Mexico, are to the 22d of February. General Placido Vega had finally entered Sinaloa and issued his proclamation ignoring Juarez as President of the republic. The day after the proclamation was published the town of Rosario was captured by Don Sandoralis. General Parra issued a pronunciamento during the absence of the troops from Mazatlan, and a raid was made on the Quartel, but the revolutionists were repulsed and forced to retreat to the Presidio. Colonel Calderas had pronounced in favor of Vega. Governor Rubi left Mazatlan ostensibly to raise troops, but the general belief is that he took advantage of the opportunity to abscond. The foreign merchants had a meeting to organize a guard for mutual protection, but it was deemed unnecessary at present. A plan to assassinate General Davalos, the principal officer of the federal government in Mazatlan, was frustrated. Several of the leaders of the plot had been arrested and condemned to be shot. General Vega was expected in Mazatlan within ten days. Bands of guerillas are traversing the interior of the State, committing indiscriminate murders and robberies.

Rich Mineral Discoveries Near the Arizona Line—Silver Ore Assaying $2,000 Per Ton.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4, 1870.

The rich mineral deposits recently discovered in New Mexico, and of which mention was made in yesterday's despatch, are situated near the boundary line of Arizona Territory and in the heart of the Apache country. No small party of whites can safely venture in the neighborhood of the mines, as the Indians are fiercely hostile. The discoverers located their claims about the 1st of February, and brought a quantity of the ore to this city. It consists of blue and black sulphurets, the silver ore assaying as high as $2,000 a ton. The principal lode consists of a mass of silver ore 3,600 feet in length, 1,000 feet in width and projecting 1,000 feet above the level of the surrounding country. The distances from well defined points to the mines are given as follows:—From the line of the projected Southern Pacific Railroad, three miles; from Fort Brown, forty miles; from the Mimbres settlement, eighty miles; from Pinos Altos, 100 miles; from Mesilla, 120 miles; from El Paso, 150 miles; from San Diego, sixty-six miles, and from Sheridan, where supplies must be obtained, 800 miles. There is an abundance of wood, water and grass in the neighborhood and some fertile land.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Prince Arthur Returns Thanks for His Reception by the House of Commons—Debate on the Welland Canal—The Question of Reciprocity.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 4, 1870.

The following letter, addressed to the Speaker of the House of Commons, was received by him yesterday afternoon before the doors were opened:—

ROSE MOUNT, MONTREAL, Feb. 28, 1870.

DEAR SIR—I am desired by his Royal Highness Prince Arthur to take the earliest opportunity of thanking the various members of the House of Commons for the welcome given by them individually to his Royal Highness at Ottawa. The hospitable manner in which he was entertained demands his warmest thanks, and the brilliant ball which was given in his honor was unequalled by anything he has seen on this side of the Atlantic, and will ever be remembered by his Royal Highness with sincere pleasure and gratitude. Believe me, yours very truly, H. ELPHINSTONE.

Colonel Elphinstone also addressed a letter to Colonel Bernard, in which he states that the truly warm-hearted manner with which he has ever been received by all classes of people in the Dominion has deeply touched his Royal Highness, and has called forth on his part feelings of deep affection and esteem.

In the House of Commons last night Hon. Mr. Langevin stated that the government would ask for an appropriation for the purpose of completing the level of the Welland Canal.

Sir John A. Macdonald said it was not the intention of the government to issue any license to foreign fishermen during the ensuing season, and it was the intention of the government to take steps to protect the rights of Canadian fishermen in Canadian waters. This announcement was received with cheers.

Sir Francis Hicks stated that confidential communications were passing between Ottawa and Washington relative to the reciprocity, which, in its present unfinished state, would not be laid before the House. There was no difficulty presented on this side of the line to the freest commercial intercourse with the United States.

Accident on the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad—Two Passenger Cars Thrown Down an Embankment—Several Persons Injured—Scientific Observations on Moose Hillock Mountain.

CONCORD, March 4, 1870.

By an accident on the Manchester and Lawrence Railroad this morning two passenger cars were thrown down an embankment fifteen feet high, and landed sideways on a stone wall, with the milk car thrown upon them. Yet, fortunately, no lives were lost. A lady from Lawrence and one from Manchester received severe injuries, and several others were badly bruised. The train was delayed an hour. No part of the wrecked cars lies within fifteen feet of the track. The accident occurred about one mile below Derry and was caused by a broken rail.

Professor Huntington, Assistant State Geologist, and Mr. A. F. Clough, a stereoscopic artist of Warren, returned on the 1st of March from their winter residence on the summit of Moose Hillock Mountain, where they went into camp about the middle of December for the purpose of making scientific observations. The lowest point of the mercury was seventeen degrees below zero, and for weeks together the temperature was higher than the average at the base of the mountain. The highest rate of wind was ninety miles per hour, and to reach their instruments under this test it was necessary to crawl in and out of their habitation. From the summit the sea is visible in a line a little north of Winnepesaukee. They have made frequent visits to the base of the mountain for supplies, but the only animal of a ferocious nature seen was a wolf the week before they left. The scientific objects of the visit were satisfactorily accomplished and will be reported by Professor Huntington. Their winter quarters have been 5,000 feet above the sea level.

General Bedel has written a private letter to Mr. Butterfield, of the Patriot, stating that he has no intention of withdrawing from the contest, and that the substitution of Mr. Flint's name on the ticket has been made by the Central Committee without consulting him.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Receipt of Treasure from Mexico—Coinage of the San Francisco Mint.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4, 1870.

The steamship Continental arrived here to-day from Mexican ports with $500,000 in treasure.

The coinage at the branch mint in this city during the month of February was $985,000, including $25,000 in silver.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Desperate Attempt of Bohner, the Murderer, to Escape.

HUNTINGDON, March 4, 1870.

This morning Godfried Bohner, one of the murderers of the Peightal family, attempted to escape from jail. It appears the keeper had occasion to enter his cell, when Bohner struck him on the head with his handcuffs, cutting him severely, and, taking his keys out of his pocket, then threw them into Bodenberg's, the other murderer's, cell, telling him to come out, but he refused. The jailor called for help, and his cries were heard by another prisoner, who came to his assistance. Bohner was secured after being struck several times on the head with a poker, cutting him severely.

LOUISIANA.

Arrest of Auditor Wickliffe for Embezzling Public Funds—Over $500,000 Missing.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4, 1870.

The anniversary celebration of the firemen passed off quietly. The procession was large and imposing.

Ex-Auditor Wickliffe was arrested this morning upon the affidavit of Acting Auditor Abans, charging him with embezzlement of coupons of the State valued at over $500,000. In default of $60,000 bail he was committed to prison.

THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Nothing Authentic Yet Heard from Her.

Arrival at Boston of the Bark E. A. Kennedy, from Liverpool—Her Captain Reports Passing a Steamer Lying Still in the Ocean—Speculations Regarding Her Being the Missing Steamer.

BOSTON, March 4, 1870.

Captain Haffres, of the bark E. A. Kennedy, arrived here to-day from Liverpool. He reports at three o'clock A. M., February 12, in lat. 48, long. 35, passed a long, low propeller, apparently lying still, heading west-northwest. She showed only one bright light at the masthead. No other lights were visible in the cabin or about the decks. She had three masts, and was square rigged forward, with topsail yards. To all appearance the steamer was in good condition, and bore no evidence of having met with any disaster. Captain Haffres states that he passed near enough to receive any communication if it had been desired, and heard the steam escaping.

A report was current here that the steamer seen was the missing Inman steamer City of Boston, and the agent of the company in this city is of the opinion that it may have been her, as the description given corresponds to her rig, &c., but there is considerable doubt, as the captain did not observe her very particularly, and the general appearance of the steamer was like others employed in the Atlantic trade. The steamer seen was also heading in an opposite direction from that which the City of Boston would take on her voyage. It is possible it may have been her and that she had lost her rudder or was injured in her machinery, which would account for her temporary stoppage in mid ocean.

Return of the Steamer Druid to Halifax After an Unsuccessful Search.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 4, 1870.

The steamer Druid has returned from Sable Island, where she has been cruising in search of the City of Boston, but has obtained no information of the missing steamer. Very little hope of her safety is entertained here.

Risks on the City of Boston Again Declined.

LONDON, March 4, 1870.

The Board of Underwriters have again declined risks on the missing steamer City of Boston.

SHIPWRECK.

Full Particulars of the Loss of the Missionary Brig Morning Star.

HONOLULU, Feb. 8, 1870.

News has just reached here of the loss of the missionary packet Morning Star on Strong's Island on the 18th of October last. Captain Tengstrom, who was in command, gives the following account of the disaster:—

The brig Morning Star left the south harbor of Strong's Island for Honolulu at half-past three o'clock on the 18th of October, with light wind off shore. Were towed out with two of the brig's boats and the pilot boat. At five P. M. the pilot and all the shore hands left the vessel, and one of the brig's boats was sent to get some lines which had been left on the reef. At a quarter past six the boat returned and was taken on board the brig, which was at this time fully three miles from shore, with wind very light, north by west. During the evening, which was cloudy and dark, it was found that the brig had drifted inshore with a strong current; the boats were manned and sent ahead to tow her off, but still the vessel kept drifting in. Finding that nothing could be done to keep her off shore the port anchor was let go at half-past eight P. M. in twenty-five fathoms of water. At ten P. M. a squall came up from the eastward, which appeared very threatening, but gave us hope that by slipping the anchor we might get out to sea before the force of the squall struck the vessel. Everything was made ready for this emergency. As the squall struck the vessel the fore and aft sails were hoisted, the chain slipped and for a moment the vessel went ahead; but the heavy rollers which came in checked her headway, and before she could gather again she struck a little aft of the mainmast, the next sea lifting her broadside on to the rocks. The current at the time appeared to be at least four knots an hour, in the opposite direction to what it usually runs. At eleven P. M. the passengers were sent ashore in one of the boats, at great peril. At half-past eleven the foremast was cut away. A heavy wave which had broken over the vessel made a complete wreck of everything on deck and in the cabin—staterooms, doors and furniture being completely smashed by its force and all the clothing, stores, &c., scattered and destroyed. At half-past one the boat returned from the harbor, three miles distant. As every sea washed entirely over the vessel nothing could be done further to save her or the effects, and at two A. M. the officers and crew went on shore. They returned at daylight, but found everything so completely destroyed by the breakers that nothing could be saved.

The delegate of the Board of Missions, Rev. J. F. Pogue, Rev. Mr. Sturges, wife and child, and Rev. Mr. Snow, together with the captain and crew of the Morning Star, came up to these islands in the British brig Anne Porter, Captain Davie, which had been chartered for the purpose. A vessel will have to be chartered to proceed to the Marquesas for the purpose of bringing the missionaries from that field to the semi-centennial meeting of missionaries to be held here in June next. In order to carry on the mission work in the new field to the westward another vessel must be procured, and in all probability a new one will be built, as it is difficult to procure one adapted to the business.

MR. SEWARD AND THE ALDERMEN.

The Sage of Auburn to Visit the Common Council on Monday Next.

The following correspondence between the Aldermen and Mr. W. H. Seward will show that the sage of Auburn will not be allowed to take his departure without enjoying "a shake" with the City Fathers:—

OFFICE CLERK COMMON COUNCIL, No. 8 City Hall, March 3, 1870.

Hon. WILLIAM H. SEWARD:—

DEAR SIR—The special committee of the Common Council of this city, appointed pursuant to the requirements of a resolution unanimously adopted by both branches thereof for the purpose of making arrangements to testify, in a fitting and appropriate manner, the high appreciation of your character and public services entertained by the people and government of this city, regret that, in obedience to the request contained in your note of the 2d inst., declining the intended compliment, qualifiedly accepted by you previously, they are necessitated to forego the pleasure of meeting yourself and friends, as was intended, at a banquet to be given at the Astor House on Monday next.

The committee will here take occasion to say, dear sir, that the city authorities intended to convey simply a sincere expression of their regard and esteem for you personally and your pre-eminent abilities, and to acknowledge the credit reflected by you upon the Empire State, of which the city of New York forms an integral and by no means insignificant part. They believe that to this you were most emphatically entitled upon your arrival in this city, after a protracted absence in foreign lands, and they are still anxious in some way to perform the duty assigned them in a manner acceptable to you, keeping in view your expressed desire to avoid "everything that might be deemed to bear the character of extravagance or ostentation." With this object in view the members of both branches of the Common Council will meet in a body in the chamber of the Board of Assistant Aldermen on Monday next, the 7th inst., at two o'clock P.M., or at any other time or place you may designate, when they will do themselves the honor of paying their respects to you personally, and where they can also formally present for your acceptance the freedom and hospitalities of the city.

If this meets your approbation the committee respectfully ask that you may be pleased to signify your acceptance, or if the time and place do not suit your convenience be kind enough to designate more convenient ones next week for the reception and presentation. Very respectfully, on behalf of the committee, ANTHONY MILLER, Chairman.

JOSEPH SHANNON, Clerk.

REPLY OF MR. SEWARD.

NEW YORK, March 4, 1870.

GENTLEMEN—It will give me the highest pleasure to meet the Common Council of the city of New York at the Chamber of the Board of Assistant Aldermen on Monday next, at the hour designated in your very kind note, for the purpose therein specified. Tendering you renewed respect and esteem, I am, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Messrs. ANTHONY MILLER and others, committee.

QUESADA SURRENDERS.

The following letter has been received from General Quesada, in response to an invitation to attend the lecture and concert for the benefit of the Cuban Charitable Aid Society, at Cooper Institute, next Tuesday evening:—

S. D. STOCKING, Corresponding Secretary Cuban Charitable Aid Association:—

DEAR SIR—In answer to the complimentary invitation extended to me by the Cuban Charitable Aid Society I take pleasure in accepting the same, unless the service of my country should require, absolutely, my presence elsewhere.

I have been deeply affected by observing since my arrival here the interest taken by the American people in the affairs of Cuba. I could not expect less from the deep-rooted love of liberty and progress which distinguishes the Americans as a nation. I am equally gratified to see the leading men of this country endeavoring to carry out in Cuba the noble work which they have accomplished here—I refer to the emancipation of slavery clause of the Cuban constitution and the starting point of the struggle.

I shall avail myself of the first opportunity of conveying to my countrymen the assurance that they are not forsaken in their hour of need by the American people; but that their efforts to conquer their liberty have enlisted the warmest sympathy of your nation.

Begging to offer my warmest thanks, in the name of my countrymen, for your noble efforts in behalf of Cuban freedom, I remain your obedient servant, M. QUESADA.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Marriage Day of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Drew—Brilliant Reception.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Drew was celebrated last evening at their residence, No. 41 Union square, in presence of a brilliant assemblage. The very rare event was welcomed with the most hearty congratulations. Costly presents were showered in from dear and intimate friends, and throughout the splendid festivities the aged and respected couple, whose conjugal ties have been so happily bound together for half a century, were the recipients of the most affectionate compliments. The parlors of the mansions were brilliantly lighted, suspended from the ceiling being beautiful wreaths attached to a globe of flowers, indicating by letters thereon that Mr. and Mrs. Drew were married in the year 1820. There was brought to mind last evening a very remarkable circumstance—in its way almost unparalleled—that Mr. Daniel Drew and his brother Thomas are married to two sisters and that the latter gentleman and his worthy spouse celebrated their golden wedding some two years since; thus the two brothers and sisters have lived to see the fiftieth anniversary of their respective marriage days. Mr. Daniel Drew is now in his seventy-fourth year, his good lady being two or three years younger. They have living two children, nine grandchildren and one charming little great grand child. The attendance last evening comprised many of the relatives of the venerable lady and gentleman whom all assembled to honor. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Drew, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Drew, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Chamberlain, W. B. Skidmore, G. Robinson, D. Gregory, General Devens, Dr. Lindsay, H. D. Morgan, J. E. Kelly, Captain Christopher, Messrs. Lane, D. P. Norton, J. B. Dickenson and others. The toilets of the ladies were exceedingly handsome. The reception commenced shortly before ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Drew, the latter attired in silk lavender covered with white pointed silk, and both looking quite hale and pleasant, warmly received their friends, who were profuse in their earnest congratulations. The Rev. Dr. Ridgeway, of St. Paul's Methodist church, on behalf of his congregation, presented in a feeling address a very appropriate gift in the shape of a gorgeous basket of flowers. It was of solid silver and gold, emblematic of the intrinsic and solid worth of the recipients, wrought with beautiful forms and adorned with exquisite tracery, symbolizing those natures fashioned by grace and ripe with the flowers and fruits of domestic and religious fidelity. On the bowl were the words "Golden Wedding," encircled with linden leaves, emblems of constancy. On one side of the bowl was a medallion of the Wesley chapel, Mulberry street, where Mr. and Mrs. Drew joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and on the other side St. Paul's, where they now worship. The gift was also adorned with suitable monograms. After the presentation the Rev. Mr. Foss said prayer, which being concluded Mr. and Mrs. Drew mingled with their numerous guests and proceeded to partake of an elegant repast. Altogether the event was one to be remembered with pleasure.

ANOTHER DEFALCATION.

About $12,000 Gone—Mysterious Disappearance of a Confidential Clerk.

A few days since a young man by the name of Charles E. Rowan, for five years confidential clerk and bookkeeper of Messrs. C. Hinckley & Co., commission merchants, Chicago, Ill., absconded with $6,000 in United States bonds and about $6,000 in money, the property of his employer. From what can be learned it seems that a day or so before his flight he made a visit to a place called Waukegan, Ill., to spend Washington's birthday. At this time he bade his mother goodby, promising a speedy return. About three days after his departure the mother entered his bedroom and found upon the bureau the following letter addressed to herself:—

Goodby, dear mother—you will never see me alive again.

This letter also contained a note addressed to Mr. Charles Hinckley, his employer. It was as follows:—

My brain is cracked. I cannot stand the pressure any longer. When you find me you will learn the quickest manner of death. I bequeath to you all that is left of me.

When the contents of the latter in question had been communicated to the firm they at once had their affairs investigated, and then discovered that bonds representing $6,000 had been withdrawn by Rowan after banking hours, and also $6,000 in money was found missing. These circumstances and the fact that nothing has been seen or heard of Rowan since his departure gave the firm good reason to think that their confidential clerk had made for parts unknown without any specified time for returning. Hence the services of the branch in Chicago of Superintendent Warren's Detective Police Agency, 72 Broadway, of this city, was called into requisition and detectives detailed in search of young Rowan. The agency offer a reward of $500 for any information leading to the arrest of the criminal. Rowan is twenty-eight to thirty years of age, five feet eight or nine inches in height, slim built, brown, wavy hair, rather thin; brown mustache and side whiskers, blue eyes, Roman nose, fair complexion, feet small, weighs 130 to 140 pounds. Speaks German and French and is gentlemanly in his address. Was a major in an Illinois regiment during the late war and one of the Libby prisoners who escaped by tunnelling out. When he left Chicago he wore a black Astrakhan (shaggy) cap, dark brown overcoat, pantaloons, vest and undercoat of fine cloth, dark color; set of gold studs in bosom, with pearls—or a set of square onyx studs; gold watch and chain—the latter with small links; old, well worn, chased gold ring, on little finger of left hand. Carries a revolver and, if not prevented, will attempt self-destruction when arrested.

THE NEW JERSEY RAILROAD WAR.

Defeat of the Camden and Amboy in the Legislature—A New Rival in the Field—The Power of the Monopoly Broken in the State.

The war which is being waged against the Camden and Amboy Railroad monopoly is the chief subject for discussion throughout New Jersey. The monopoly having held the little State for so many years in its iron grasp people had settled down to the conviction that the defeat of that power was almost impossible. Richmond is in the field, however, and the prospects are that there will be a desperate fight, such as never before tried the mettle of the monopoly. The new air line from New York to Philadelphia is regarded as the deliverer of the State from a thraldom which has made it a byword among the sister States. And there are men at the head and front of the new project who will prove more than a match for the ablest men the monopoly can put forward. The sympathy of the people everywhere is with the former, and the enthusiasm manifested at the public meetings shows with what feelings of satisfaction the people regard the approaching downfall of Camden and Amboy. The halls of the Legislature will be the battle ground, and every one acquainted with our modern Legislatures knows full well what a rich harvest is in store for the members of that august body known as the New Jersey Legislature.

Everything seems to be inauspicious for the tottering power. That one trouble never comes alone is an old maxim. As if one enemy was not enough to contend with at one time, a new power entered the field yesterday and measured swords with the monopoly. The bill incorporating the Western Hunterdon Railway Company, providing for the construction of a road from Flemington to Frenchtown, in Hunterdon county, came up in the Assembly on its second reading, when Mr. Maxwell moved to lay the bill over. This motion was opposed by Messrs. Barton and Probasco, and was overruled. A second attempt was made to kill the bill by striking out the clause providing for the construction of a bridge over the Delaware. When the vote was called the proposed amendment was lost. The Camden and Amboy men not being present in force, the motion was lost, and the bill was ordered to be engrossed and have a third reading without material amendment.

THE NEWARK COMMON COUNCIL.

An Anxious Meeting Last Night—Alderman Cain Absent and only Routine Business Transacted.

A large crowd of citizens assembled last evening in the Newark Common Council Chamber in expectation of witnessing the recusant democratic Alderman, Charles Cain, on the stool of repentance. Those who expected a sensation were, however, disappointed, for, on calling the roll, it was made apparent that Cain had "gone where the woodbine twineth," for he was not of those who answered to their names, nor did he put in an appearance the whole evening. Neither was he present at the democratic caucus held during the afternoon. The democrats openly charge that he was spirited away by the republicans.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

The United States frigate Guerriere and the gunboats Wachusett and Shawmut are undergoing repairs preparatory to being placed in commission for foreign service. Fully 2,000 men are now at work at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

An effort is making to procure a library of general reading for the crew of the United States steamer Colorado. Any contributions of books or magazines for such purpose may be sent for one week to Chaplain John R. Mathews, care of Messrs. Stetson, Astor House, New York.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

No Provision Made to Meet the State Indebtedness.

NASHVILLE, March 3, 1870.

There was no quorum in the House to-day, nor will there be during the remainder of the session. Monday having been fixed for adjournment. The financial policy for the year has been completed. No provision is made to pay the State debt interest. The general tax law will raise only a sufficient amount to pay the State government and Comptroller's warrants in the hands of those to whom issued.

"Heating, Voice and Speech" is the subject of the free lecture "for the people" at Cooper Institute to-night.

Margaret Cochran, residing at 323 East Twenty-fifth street, was found dead in her room last evening. It is supposed she dropped down dead while sweeping the floor.

Nearly 2,000 persons have visited the Broadway Pneumatic Tunnel. Proceeds of admission fees go to the fund of the Union Home and School for Orphans.

A servant girl, Margaret Driscoll, was held by Justice Cox yesterday to answer a charge of stealing clothing, jewelry, &c., valued at $100, from her employer, Charles R. Miller, of 34 Great Jones street.

John Hamilton, of Fifth avenue and Sixty-fourth street, complained yesterday, at the Yorkville Police Court, that his son Edward had whipped him badly. "Ed." didn't deny it, but wanted to see his lawyer. Held in default of bail.

The Philadelphia Common Council delegation were yesterday the guests of the Police Commissioners. They were lunched after the fatigue of visiting the station houses in coaches and examining the working of our police system, &c.

At half-past one o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the tailor shop of Edward Metinger, No. 48½ Oak street. The upper floors are occupied by waiter girls, who lost about $500 worth of property in the aggregate. Metinger's loss is $800, upon which he has $1,300 insurance.

Ben Halcourt, of 151 West Houston street, stole thirty-five dollars and a watch and chain belonging to his wife. Mrs. Halcourt's first husband, Mr. ——, had given her the watch and chain during his lifetime, and she prized it so highly that she had Mr. Harcourt arrested. She then failed to press the charge and he was "let go."

Mr. Seward and Mr. F. W. Seward were entertained Friday evening at dinner by Mr. E. Delafield Smith, at his residence, 14 East Fortieth street. Among the guests were Messrs. A. A. Low, Bigelow, Stoughton, Evarts, Baker, the artist; Judge Roosevelt, Isaac Bell, Josiah O. Low, Clarence A. Seward, Blatchford, Prichard, Kissel Roberts, Schell and others.

James Walker and wife, of 23 Amity place, went on a visit to Brooklyn on Thursday night. When they came home they found Michael Begg snoring in Walker & Co.'s bed. Begg lived in the same house, and had unknowingly made the mistake; but Walker smashed him with a frying pan and other utensils, and drove him from the house. Begg had him arrested for assault and battery—particularly the battery—but subsequently withdrew the charge and Walker walked.

Officer Robert Orr, of the Sixteenth precinct, was arrested yesterday by officer Leaycraft, of the Second precinct, for brutally beating Mrs. Mary Walters, of No. 414 West Twenty-sixth street. Orr resides in the same house, and he attacked her in consequence of a squabble among co-tenants about privileges. Orr was wrong in the first place, and worse in the second place by beating her and showing a revolver. Justice Cox will settle him.

William A. King, John Kearns and Pat. McGaffrey were arraigned before Justice Coulter, at the Yorkville Police Court, yesterday, charged with having robbed one of the many "American" tea shops in Vesey street of teas to the value of $200. Kearns was a carman in the employ of the tea company. "Mac" kept a grocery store in East Thirty-sixth street, and Kearns is charged with unlawfully increasing Mac's stock. King is suspected of complicity. All held to answer.

The opening lecture of a course of four lectures by Mr. B. Waterhouse Hawkins, of London, on the "Science of Natural History," was delivered last evening in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall, corner of Twenty-third street and Fourth avenue. A variety of subjects in relation to the animal kingdom was treated in the lecture, and a rare charm of interest given them, unusual in lectures of this purely scientific character. There was a very good attendance.

From that low state of temperature particularly cheerful just now to the ice companies the weather moderated about noon yesterday and the snow began falling. It came down in that slow, steady style that looked for all the world premonitory of an old fashioned northeast snow storm, the wind, which, however, was very slight, coming from that point of the compass. Fortunately it did not reach this culminating point, and those anticipating—at least this was the look of affairs late last evening—a perplexing depth of snow and obstructions of the city cars and railroad trains and steamboat lines were happily disappointed.

The convention of Irish societies to arrange for the celebration of St. Patrick's Day met again last evening, and were addressed by the Rev. Father Corrigan. Captain Dempsey, of the Sixty-ninth regiment, and a committee reported that the regiment would join in the procession and muster in stronger force than ever before. The regiment desired that the procession will march down Second avenue, instead of First avenue, but subsequently yielded to the wish of the convention. The following officers were elected:—Grand Marshal, James Reilly, A. O. H., No. 18; First Aid, Peter Kane, A. O. H., Morrisania; Second Aid, Patrick McGuinn, A. O. H., No. 6.

LORD SIMEON'S DIAMOND FEAST.

The grand closing carnival of Lord Simeon's feast of this gay season transpired last evening with brilliant success. Before ten o'clock the hotel was crowded with above 1,000 guests, and Broadway was alive with carriages from Bleecker to Canal street. Lord Simeon himself presided on the occasion, and amid the flashes of his famous solitaire dropped gems of courtesy and repartee among the delighted guests. By eleven o'clock the ballroom was full. Such beauty has been rare at any assemblage of the ton this season, and the supple arms, perfect necks and elegant figures would have been the pride of the proudest sculptor. The toilets were superb, many of the ladies supporting the choicest gems and the richest fabrics. Powdered hair was the style, and white and Nile green prevailed in the colors. The festivities kept up to a late hour, Lord Simeon likewise keeping up, not only the irrepressibility of his nature, but the grand magnificence of his hospitality. The following ladies and gentlemen were among the precious stones:—H. Watts, Liverpool; Miss Kate Lockwood, the accomplished and beautiful niece of Jerome B. Fellows, wearing $20,000 worth of diamonds; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. F. Randolph, ex-Mayor C. Godfrey Gunther and daughters, G. H. Gilbert, Colonel B. H. Martin, Samuel G. Courtney and lady, Recorder Hackett, Judge McCunn; Miss Ida Perkins, of Washington Heights, and Mr. Rosea B. Perkins; Mr. Potter Palmer, the wealthiest man of the great West; H. Batzer, Mr. George W. Davidson, Mrs. Thaddeus Davids; W. J. Porter and lady, Tennessee, and the entire City Council, Philadelphia.

THE STRAW BED SOLDIERS.

The Thirteenth regiment National Guard, according to the statement of their commandant, Colonel Mason, on the occasion of being on duty through apprehension of violence succeeding the Voorhees murder, made no application for beds and did not use any, and therefore could not have sent in any bill to the Kings county Supervisors for beds. This regiment, it is asserted, do not belong to the effeminate order of "featherbed soldiers," having served during the war in the field long enough to appreciate that phase of exquisite enjoyment appertaining to the "soft side of a plank."

The members of the Twenty-third regiment also, who were on duty at the same time, disclaim having had any intention of asking for 100 mattresses while on duty. They came prepared for a less soft thing, having their blankets strapped on their knapsacks. The straw beds were ordered without their solicitation by their considerate commanding general (Woodford). The ridicule to which they have been subjected by this straw bed bill story has proved very annoying to this gallant corps.

ARREST OF SORCERERS.

Mrs. Jane Milne and her son David, a boy of eighteen, who have carried on the business of fortune telling and astrology in Paterson, N. J., for several years, both notorious swindlers, were arrested yesterday and placed under bail to appear at court, by Judge Sandford, on a charge of obtaining money by false pretence or trick and device.

THE NEW CHARTER.

The Powers of the Mayor and the Election of Officers of the City Government—The Charter to be Laid Before the Democratic Caucus on Tuesday.

The parties most concerned in the welfare of the new charter have not as yet completed all their plans, and so the precious document has not been sent to Albany in its entirety. It is not a very easy matter in drawing up a charter for a great city like this to make every clause at the very start so satisfactory that it meets with the approval of all the democratic leaders, every one of whom has his peculiar views on the subject, and, as a natural consequence, wants them to shine first in every proviso. The spirit of compromise has already done a great deal in harmonizing the views of the framers of the document, and in a few days it will be in such a form that the Legislature can take hold of it in true earnest. There are certain portions which still remain "doubtful," however, in the minds of the leaders, and these portions must be carefully worked over before they can be put in a presentable shape—that is, acceptable to all parties. The powers of the Mayor, as enumerated in the charter, have not met with the sanction of all those who desire the factions in the Legislature to come to an amicable and lasting settlement, and thus effectually put an end to their present difficulties. It is the intention of the framers to give the Chief Magistrate all the necessary authority to carry on the government of the city with all due regard to economy and the welfare of the people. They contend that the Mayor has not now the authority that he ought to have, and that his powers should be considerably extended. For this purpose the new charter provides that the Mayor shall be elected at the same time as all the other prominent city officers, over whom he will have a certain amount of executive control. By this means it is hoped, they say, to have the city governed by men (all of whom the people will have directly put into office) who can be easily held responsible for misrule or official corruption. The Supervisors will be elected from Senatorial districts, and their control of the city funds will not by any means be as great as it now is. The charter so provides that they cannot pay a cent for anything in their official capacity before each account is examined and endorsed as proper by a Board of Estimates, which will be appointed as a sort of watchdog over the people's money. The charter will be placed before the democratic caucus of the Legislature, which will be held on Tuesday night, when the honorable Senators and Assemblymen will have ample opportunity to discuss its merits and demerits and get it into such a shape that it will go through the Legislature in double quick order.

THE STAGE AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Matinées will be given to-day as follows:—Wallack's, "Lost at Sea;" Niblo's, "Innisfallen;" Olympic, "Hamlet;" Daly's Fifth Avenue, "Frou-Frou;" Booth's, "Hamlet;" Wood's Museum, "Golden Bubble;" Bowery, "Uncle Tom's Cabin;" Grand Opera House, "Twelve Temptations;" Apollo Hall, "Hibernicon;" New York Circus, "Bedouin Arabs;" Tony Pastor's, Association Hall concert and Hooley's, Brooklyn.

The fourth concert of the New York Philharmonic Society will be given this evening in the Academy of Music.

Mr. Fechter will play Hamlet and Claude Melnotte at the Brooklyn Academy on the 21st and 22d of this month.

Miss Anna Mehlig gives a concert at Steinway Hall on Monday, for which she has secured the services of Miss Clara Perl, from the imperial opera, Vienna.

Levy gives a concert at the Brooklyn Academy on Tuesday.

Miss Kate Reignolds went direct from Vicksburg to New Orleans in consequence of the closing of the Galveston theatre. Her new play, "Bound," will be produced at the St. Charles theatre in style.

The flute-like voice of Brignoli has been warbling in the Southern clime. His well appointed Italian opera company gave "Lucia," "Trovatore" and "Lucrezia Borgia" in Mobile last week, and, notwithstanding the very inclement weather, they drew crowded houses every night. One of the journals of that city says:—"We take all back we have said of the indifference of Brignoli. We heard him when the world held him to be in the prime of his glory, but we never heard him sing with more consummate art and more impassioned energy than he did last night." Miss McCulloch, Miss Antonia Henne and Petrelli come in also for a large share of praise. Their operatic tour, extending from New York to San Francisco, and from Chicago to Mobile, has been uniformly successful.

A grand complimentary benefit will be tendered to Mr. Thomas Kingsland, one of our musical veterans, on March 10, by the band of the Twenty-second regiment (Dodworth's), at the Armory in Fourteenth street.

ATTEMPTED BANK ROBBERY IN CONNECTICUT.

Robbers in the New Canaan National Bank—The Watchman Bound.

STAMFORD, Conn., March 4, 1870.

As Mr. Bossie, the watchman, was leaving the steps of the New Canaan National Bank at one o'clock A. M. on Friday he was seized by two men, who sprang at him from under cover. He shouted murder and made what resistance he could, but was overpowered and bound hand and foot. He was then carried into the bank, the back door of which had been already forced open, and there he was securely bound into a chair. The burglars then proceeded to blow open the vault, but failed in this although they succeeded in loosening the iron-on work so as to get down to the safe. They operated on the safe, and at about four A. M. had blown off one door, but then found there was another still to be blown off, and upon consultation, fearing that daylight would overtake them before they could finish the job, departed, taking their tools with them. They left the watchman tied in the chair, but he was released by parties who heard the second explosion, and who, on going to the bank, found the front door open. The watchman thinks that there were seven men in the band that operated on the bank. A party of young men—strangers—have been stopping in Stamford for the past few days, having a team with them, which they kept at a stable. On Friday the team was found near Stamford, with an overcoat, gloves and other articles in it. The men are missing, and it is thought they were connected with the attempted robbery of the bank.

A Cough, a Cold, or a Sore Throat, Requires immediate attention and should be checked. If allowed to continue, irritation of the lungs, a permanent throat disease, or consumption is often the result.
BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES having a direct influence to the parts, give immediate relief. For Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Consumptive and Throat Diseases, Troches have a soothing effect.
"Troches," so called, sold by the ounce, are a poor imitation and nothing like BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, which are sold only in boxes with fac simile of the proprietors on outside wrapper of box, and private government stamp attached to each box.
This care in putting up the Troches is important as a security to the purchaser in order to be sure of obtaining the genuine BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.
Owing to the good reputation, extensive use and popularity of the Troches, many worthless and cheap imitations are offered in boxes, which are good for nothing.
BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES are sold generally throughout the United States, Great Britain and British Provinces, and in many of the large cities of France.

THE REDSKINS.

Council of the Indian Tribes of the Southwest.

A War of Extermination Against the Whites to be Inaugurated in the Spring—Progress of the Quaker Mission—The Safety of White Settlers Endangered by Land Jobbers and Railroad Agents.

ST. LOUIS, March 4, 1870.

General Hazen, commander of the Department of the Arkansas, arrived here yesterday from the Indian Territory, and furnishes an account of affairs in that section.

All the Indian tribes of the Southwest held a council at "Antelope Hills" in December and agreed to inaugurate a war of extermination against the whites in the spring; but their policy has been changed since then. The Arapahoes, Kiowas, Cheyennes and other Southwestern tribes have been peaceably inclined, and with care on the part of the government good order may be maintained.

An important council with all the wild tribes that remain will be held on the North Fork of the Canadian river on the 2 th inst., under the auspices of Superintendent Hoag, the object of which is to secure peace among the tribes hostile to each other. The prospects for success in that direction are quite good.

The Quaker mission is extending its influence and working benefit to the Indians on the reservations.

The influx of railroad agents begging subsidies and lands for railroads is doing much harm and endangering the interests of the whites now settled in that country. It has become such a nuisance that the Cherokees have commenced warning the whites to leave the Territory. The contemplated action of making these Indians open their lands to general settlement is opposed by the mass of the Indians. They claim that it would reduce nine-tenths of them to beggary in five years through the trading and cheating propensities of the whites. The more intelligent among them acknowledge that the country is too unwieldy for their use, and favor a curtailment of the reservation to about one-eighth of its present dimensions, giving the members of the tribe who choose to become full and complete citizens the lands selected by themselves—say a section to each—the rest to be placed on reservations under the same arrangement as now. A vast tract of country would thus be freed from the Indian claim and thrown open to settlers. In this manner, it is claimed, the former pledges of the government would be nearer carried out, and a much better state of feeling would exist than if the Congressional scheme were practically instituted.

By many persons Indian nationality is thought to be a fallacy, and that no benefit can be derived from interfering with the district usages of the different tribes. General Hazen states that the country throughout Southern Colorado and New Mexico is being rapidly settled, and that before another year is over every valley along the southern tributaries of the Arkansas, from Fort Lyon to the mountains, will be dotted with colonies similar to those which passed through here a short time since en route for the Wet Mountains. He describes the country westward and southwestward of Fort Lyon as capable of sustaining an immense population. The whole country is rich in agricultural and mineral resources.

The Friendly Sioux at the Cheyenne and Grand River Agencies—Ineffectual Efforts to Induce Their Savage Brethren to Bury the Hatchet—Unfulfilled Promises of the Peace Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1870.

The following official letter was received to-day at the Indian Bureau:—

HEADQUARTERS MIDDLE DISTRICT,
FORT SULLY, DAKOTAH TERRITORY, Feb. 8, 1870.

Hon. ELY S. PARKER, Commissioner of Indian Affairs:—

SIR—I desire to lay before you some information concerning the condition of the Sioux at the Cheyenne and Grand River agencies, in accordance with a request of the principal chiefs, who from time to time come to me with their complaints and hopes. It is useless for me to tell these Indians that they ought to go to their agents. They know that I am the ranking military officer here, and they insist that I must write to their Great Father.

As to the condition and conduct of the Sioux at the two agencies referred to I see no reason to complain, excepting that the young men have killed a few beef cattle belonging to the contractor, and all the friendly Sioux persist in making raids on the Rees and Gros Ventres. As to their complaints, they all arise from their misunderstanding of the treaty at Fort Rice. As you are aware, an Indian never forgets anything that is promised him; nor can he understand why circumstances should interfere with the fulfilment of the promises. Now, it is true that the Peace Commissioners at Fort Rice pictured to the Indians a pretty liberal view of their improved condition under the treaty, and the Indians come to me and say:—"Where are those houses you were going to build us? Where are the cows, the sheep, the pigs, &c.? But, above all, where are the guns and ammunition we were to have received?" The planting of corn, also recommended to them, and which we promised to assist them in, has as yet made little progress. All the Indians whom we are accustomed to call friendly are very anxious to farm. Last year, owing to the want of laborers and oxen, very little was done. And while upon this subject I would recommend that a strong effort be made this spring to get as much land broken as possible to give the Indians a start in planting; and while recommending I would respectfully advise that a liberal supply of trade rifles and ammunition be furnished the friendly Indians this summer. I have no fear nor any belief that under any reasonable treatment these Indians would ever use their arms against the whites.

Since the council at Fort Rice the friendly Indians have used all the means they could to induce the hostile Sioux to come in and bury the hatchet. Many of them have given away all their horses and goods to the hostile Indians in trying to conciliate them, and now the friendly chiefs tell me they have given the matter up; that they can do nothing with their wild relations, and that all they desire is to keep their bands together, to learn to farm and to keep away from the hostile Sioux entirely. To encourage these friendly Sioux in every possible way is of course very important. They amount to eight or ten thousand souls, and if the hostile Sioux must finally be put down by force of arms, which appears inevitable, the value of keeping the friendly ones quiet cannot be overestimated.

Of course the prospect of a crop the first year upon sod land is not good; but if twenty or thirty teams could be employed to break land this spring the Indians would raise some corn, and the prospect for next year would greatly encourage them.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
D. S. STANLEY,
Colonel Thirty-second Infantry,
Brevet Major General United States Army,
Commanding District.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

More Paving Jobs—Mayor Hall's Vetoes—That "Starter's Box."

The Board of Aldermen met yesterday at four o'clock, and went to work with their usual vim. Alderman Coman, the President of the Board, had a number of petitions from citizens threatened with assessments for experimental paving, which were laid over; and also the letter from Mayor Hall, already published, returning without his signature the joint resolution of the Common Council inviting Mr. Seward to a public dinner.

On the motion of Alderman WOLTMAN the letter was referred to the Seward Reception Committee.

The next business in order was the reading of the general orders. The first of these, which was called up by Alderman Reilly, directed that South street, from Montgomery to Corlears street, be paved with Belgian pavement, &c. The next directed the Comptroller to pay to the Northeastern Homoeopathic Medical and Surgical Dispensary $1,500 as a donation, and to place the dispensary on the list of public dispensaries, to receive the semi-annual appropriation of $500. Order No. 232 made the salary of the clerk to the Superintendent of Lands and Places equal to the salary of the general clerk in the Street Department; No. 230 authorized and directed the Street Commissioner to build a pier of the usual dimensions at the foot of Forty-sixth street, North river, the same not to extend beyond the line of the Harbor Commissioners; No. 229 directed that Tenth avenue, from Eighty-sixth to 156th street, be "regulated," &c.; No. 117 authorized and directed the Street Commissioner to have the lower side of West street, to the bulkhead line, from Charles street to Christopher street, repaved and repaired forthwith. All these orders were adopted unanimously.

Alderman MILLER moved to reconsider the vote of the last meeting authorizing the appointment of janitors in the Civil District Courts, and the reference of the matter to a committee of conference, which was carried.

On the motion of Alderman MILLER the resolutions vetoed by the Mayor for the paving of Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth and White streets with stone foundation pavement were taken from the table.

Alderman DIAMOND protested mildly on the ground that the majority of the citizens living in those streets didn't want the pavement. The resolutions were then read and passed over the veto of the Mayor, there being but one vote in the negative.

The veto of the Mayor on the resolution empowering the Dry Dock Railway Company to erect a "starter's box" in front of No. 1½ Park row was then taken up. The resolution, on being put to the vote, failed to pass over the veto, there being but eight for to ten against it. The vote, however, was reconsidered and the resolution referred back to the Committee on Railroads. The Dry Dock Company now know what to do.

A number of general orders authorizing the laying of crosswalks, &c., were passed, and there being no further business the Board adjourned to Monday next, at two o'clock.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT IN NEWARK, N. J.

Yesterday afternoon, in Newark, N. J., one George Blenkenhorn, a German, residing at No. 72 Newark street, was taken into custody and held to await a charge of having murderously assaulted his wife during a drunken spell by striking her a terrific blow on the head with a heavy iron instrument of some sort. On the way to the City Prison he secured the attendance of a respectable grocer to go bail for him, but the latter, on hearing the nature of the case, respectfully declined. He has once or twice before been arrested for similarly abusing his unfortunate wife.

THE COURTS.

Important Decision in Bankruptcy—The Fleiss Income Case—Action to Recover Counsel Fees—The Alexander Poisoning Case.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—IN BANKRUPTCY.

Important Decision—In Appeal—A Wife's Rights in Cases of Husband's Bankruptcies.

Before Judge Nelson.

In the Matter of John N. Bonesteel, a Bankrupt.—This is a petition of Mrs. Bonesteel, to review a petition of the District Court on a claim by the assignee that she held 1,145 shares of stock in a Nicolson Pavement Company that belonged to her husband. The proceeding against her was by petition in a summary way, by the assignee, to compel her to show cause why this stock should not be transferred to him. The stock is said to be of the value of $30,000. We have heretofore held that the suit by the assignee against a third person to recover assets claimed to belong to the bankrupt should be commenced by a bill in equity, or suit at law, under the third clause of the second section of the Bankrupt act. In that case we direct that the petition and answers be amended and stand for bill and answer. In that case, however, the proceedings had not extended beyond those pleadings. An application is now made in this case to revise the decision in the court below on petition, which, if the proceedings are to be regarded as founded on a bill in equity, could not be entertained, as the remedy in such a case could only be by appeal under the eighth section of the act. As we have not reformed the proceedings in this case, as was done in the case referred to, and as the practice has been heretofore very much unsettled, and to hold now in the case that the remedy is by appeal and not by petition, the time for appeal having been passed, would preclude all relief, we think it will be best and in furtherance of justice to all parties concerned to set aside the order or decree of the court, as founded on irregular proceedings, with leave for the petitioner, the assignee, to file a bill in the usual way against Mrs. Bonesteel, without costs to either party.

The petition of Mrs. Bonesteel granted.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—CRIMINAL BRANCH.

Counterfeiters, Whiskey Dealers and Tobacco Men in Trouble.

Before Judge Woodruff.

The United States vs. Bartell Pearce and Reuben Carpenter.—The defendants are charged with being connected with Colonel Bob Clark, an alleged counterfeiter, who is now in jail, in default of $25,000 bail, for extensive dealings in counterfeit money. Proceedings were reserved, by instructions from the Solicitor of the Treasury, until after the trial of Clark.

Julius Knopf and Abraham Rosenheim, indicted for becoming sureties on a bogus tobacco manufacturer's bond, were arraigned, and pleaded not guilty, and were remanded for trial.

Frederick Bauer, indicted for doing a lottery business without payment of special tax, failing to appear for trial, his recognizance was declared forfeited.

Lewis Murray, indicted for embezzling a letter from the Post Office, was arraigned, pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence.

No criminal case being ready for trial, the court adjourned. This court commenced to sit on criminal cases on Tuesday morning last, but no case has thus far been ready to proceed to trial.

The Fullerton Case.

District Attorney Pierrepont thinks that the Fullerton case will certainly be commenced on Monday next. He has received no notice from defendant's counsel for any application for further postponement. He says it is not claimed by the defence that the missing paper in Mr. O'Conor's possession will be of any importance, unless the case assumes some unexpected phase.

Wine Merchants Indicted.

Ellerbock, McCudagu & Imhorst, of No. 49 Beaver street, extensive importers of wines, have been indicted by the United States Grand Jury for undervaluing the invoices of wines imported by them. A civil suit is pending in the United States District Court against the same parties to recover $40,000 for the alleged undervaluation.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

The Fleiss Income Case.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

The United States vs. William M. Fleiss.—The defendant, a wine merchant, of the firm of Fleiss & Mayer, Nos. 77 and 79 Broad street, was charged with omitting to make full return of his income for 1868, with intent to defraud the government. The case, which has been under examination for some days, was resumed yesterday.

The books of the firm have not been produced in evidence during the progress of the examination, as they could not be found, the government asserting that they were in the possession of the defendant, and the defence as strongly asserting that they were in the custody of Collector Bailey. As the books could not be found the Commissioner admitted secondary evidence of their contents, which is really the only evidence against the accused.

The defence moved to strike out this evidence, contending earnestly that the books were seized by Collector Bailey and never returned, and are therefore now accessible, or ought to be, to the prosecution, and should be produced as the best evidence. The defence also moved that Mr. Fleiss be allowed to make a sworn statement, simply in reference to the whereabouts of the books, citing as a precedent the fact that in the Blaisdell and Eckel distillery case Judge Blatchford had allowed Mr. Blaisdell to testify relatively to the whereabouts of the books of the distillery. The Commissioner reserved decision on the motions until Monday next, until which time the examination was adjourned.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Action to Recover Counsel Fees.

Before Judge Barnard.

Sydney Webster et al. vs. Thomas B. Hawksworth et al.—This case came up yesterday on motion to strike out the answer of defendant as frivolous, and for judgment. The action originally was brought to recover a sum of $30,000 alleged to be due the plaintiffs for professional services as counsel in a case in which the defendants were then defendants in a custom house suit and the plaintiffs their counsel therein. From the statements made in the case it appeared that the plaintiffs claimed that they had substantially effected a settlement of the suits, and for their services therein claimed the sum of $25,000 and $5,000 professional services. The defendants on the other hand contend that the suits against them were discontinued by their own direct applications and memorial to the Secretary of the Treasury, and considering the charge and the claim unjust refuse to acknowledge it. The defendants further allege that the suits against them had been reopened by the government, and that, in fact, they had never been compromised or settled. The Court denied the motion and ordered a reference.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Interesting Statement of the Work of the Term.

The February term of the Court of General Sessions of the Peace of this county, just terminated, has been of longer duration than usual, and the disposal of criminal cases unprecedented. The term commenced on the 7th of February and adjourned on the 4th of March, the court having been twenty-one days in session, frequently late in the afternoon, to dispose of the cases on trial, John K. Hackett, Recorder, presiding, and Samuel B. Garvin, with his assistants, Mr. Tweed, Jr., and Mr. Fellows, prosecuting for the people. Among the trials of noted and desperate criminals were David Degnan and Joseph McGowan, for burglary, sentenced to State Prison for ten years each; George Smith for burglary in first degree, sentenced to State Prison for twenty years; James Welch, assault with intent to kill, sentenced to State Prison for ten years; James Hasketh, for assault with a deadly weapon, to State Prison for five years; Allen G. Taylor, for arson in third degree, to State Prison for seven years; Jeremiah Evans, Charles Froud and Charles Williams, for burglary in third degree, five years each to State Prison; also the trial and conviction of John Purcell for murder in the first degree, sentenced to be executed on 8th day of April next, and the trial and acquittal of James Lee for murder in the first degree. The following statistical statement of the business of the term will be read with interest:—

Murder in first degree	1
Assault, with intent to kill	1
Assault with dangerous weapon	1
Burglary in first degree	5
Burglary in second degree	1
Burglary in third degree	13
Attempt to commit burglary	8

Total	71

Indictments found by Grand Jury, 138; complaints dismissed by do., 14.

By verdict, 19; by confession, 52; tried and acquitted, 37; sentenced to be executed, 1; sentenced to State Prison, 46; sentenced to the Penitentiary, 17; sentenced to the House of Refuge, 2. Aggregate term of imprisonment in the State Prison, 156 years and 2 months.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

The Alexander Poisoning Case—Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Before Judge Ingraham.

An application was made yesterday to discharge Gardner and his wife, who were some time since arrested on suspicion of having poisoned Ira A. Alexander, who, it was said, was in the habit of carrying about with him a very large amount of securities. He died in the house of the defendants, who admitted that the deceased had $8,000 worth of securities. The daughter of deceased charged the defendants with foul play and they were accordingly placed under arrest to await the result of an analysis of the stomach by Dr. Doremus. The application for the release was based on the fact that Mr. Gardner was in extreme ill health and that from the 28th January till the 4th March nothing had been done in the matter.

The Assistant District Attorney stated that the investigation would be immediately commenced, and asked an adjournment till Wednesday next, which was granted.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

The City of Norwich Case.

Before Judge Benedict.

George Place et al. vs. The Steamboat City of Norwich, Her Engines, &c.—In this case, which was an action to recover for damages sustained by loss of property in a collision, a decree was entered in favor of libellants and the vessel ordered to be sold to satisfy the claims. Yesterday a petition was filed by Horatio N. Slater, Sr., and others, a company doing business at Webster, Mass., setting forth that they had also lost property to the amount of $6,397 by the collision, and asking that they should be allowed to recover from the proceeds of the sale of the vessel. The case will be heard on the 9th inst.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Alleged Counterfeiter Admitted to Bail.

Before Commissioner Jones.

John Story, Jr., of Richmond Valley, Staten Island, who was arrested for having in his possession a plate used in the manufacture of counterfeit stamps, was yesterday admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. The hearing of the case was set down for the 15th inst.

A Druggist as a Liquor Dealer.

F. Schmidt, a druggist, doing business at the corner of Eleventh street and Fifth avenue, was arrested yesterday morning on the charge of retailing liquor without paying the special tax required by law. The Commissioner admitted him to bail in the sum of $500 and set the hearing of the case down for the 11th inst.

CITY COURT—EQUITY.

Alleged Fraudulent Representations.

Before Judge Thompson.

Isaac D. Smith vs. Alexander Hudnut.—Plaintiff sues to recover $1,225, obtained from him by defendant through alleged fraudulent representations. The plaintiff's story is that Hudnut sold him the lease, fixtures and good will of the drug store corner of Washington and Fulton streets, representing at the time that he owned the fixtures. It subsequently transpired that they belonged to the landlord of the premises, and that the "good will" was valueless. He gave defendant a note for $3,400, secured by mortgage, upon which he made a number of payments, but as the representations made have proven false he now asks the Court to have the mortgage and note cancelled and the money thus far paid refunded to him.

Defendant denies fraud, alleges that he expended $5,000 in fitting the store up and claims that it would have become profitable but for the bad management of plaintiff. He further claims that he had a right to remove the fixtures by the terms of his lease and that he transferred the right to plaintiff, who kept them and sold them when leaving the store, which is now occupied by other parties.

Decision reserved.

THE COMING "REPEATERS."

Alarming Conspiracy Unearthed at Cooper Institute—The "Vested Rights" of Men Being Agitated Under Corsets—The Bewitching Ballot Stuffers of the Next Generation.

The New York City Woman's Suffrage Association held its regular monthly meeting at Cooper Institute yesterday afternoon. The attendance was quite large, mostly ladies, Mrs. Wilbour, President of the association, in the chair.

Mrs. BLAKE presented the following resolution for discussion:—

That as women are afflicted equally with men by the policy of the government it is no more than just that they should have equal power in controlling that policy.

Mrs. BLAKE then went on to state that within the past month she thought very great progress had been made in the emancipation of women. She instanced the action of Wyoming, where women had been elected justices of the peace and made jurors. Some papers commenting on this subject said if women voted "hanging would be played out." She did not intend to discuss the question of hanging, but she hoped and expected when that day came—and she fully expected to see that day soon—we should not have such disgraceful scenes as we had heard of at Mystic Island within the past week; and when that "good time came" prisons would become houses of reformation, as they are not now. Women have had no part in this government directly. When war came they were powerless, and the cost to women could not be told. Women had offered up their sons, husbands, brothers, fathers, to preserve the country, and yet they had no share in the law-making or controlling power in the land. She did not blame men for giving political rights to foreigners, but would like to have them give equal rights to women.

Mr. POOLE thought women ought to prepare themselves to not only vote but to accept all the duties that this privilege brings with it. Of course they would have to be jurors. It is not the question now about the right of women, but the expediency. He thought women would be better advocates, at least for women, and would be better able to present the cause of women than men are. He said the late James T. Brady used to say "any one who could cross Broadway was fit to be a justice of the peace."

A vote was called for in recognition of those men who in Congress were in favor of equal pay for those women who were clerks in governmental service at Washington. The vote was unanimous.

Dr. HALLECK made some remarks. He said the Tribune has been for many years supposed to be in the van in all reforms, and so has been kicked at; but now it feels as if it had something to kick at in the woman suffrage movement, and it improves its opportunity.

Mrs. WILBOUR read a letter full of interest, detailing the experience of a woman trying to obtain signatures to a petition for suffrage.

These suffragists seem to think that when women vote most of the evils that now exist will be made to come right.

MURDER IN NEW JERSEY.

A Man Thrown Off the Bay Bridge of the Central Railroad and Drowned—Arrest of the Alleged Murderer—The Statement of the Prisoner.

About eight o'clock on Thursday morning John Clark, the night watchman on the Bay bridge of the New Jersey Central Railroad, saw two men crossing the bridge from the west end and coming towards him. Clark went into the watchhouse to warm himself, and not many minutes had elapsed when he looked out to see what detained the men, but this time he saw only one, who was walking at a rapid pace. Clark stopped him and inquired where the other man was. The stranger turned pale, became excited and confused and muttered something which was not very intelligible. Clark observed that the man had blood on his clothes and that there were bruises and blood marks on his face and hands, and so he detained him. The latter then stated that his companion was taken sick and was lying behind, but this explanation was not satisfactory, and Clark held him till another watchman, named Flood, came up and they placed the man under arrest and conveyed him to Bayonne, where they surrendered him to a constable. A search was then made for the missing man, but no trace of him could be found. Marks of blood were seen on the bridge, from which it was concluded that there had been a murder and that the victim was thrown into the river.

The Bayonne authorities conveyed the prisoner to Elizabeth, as the supposed crime was committed on that side of the bridge, and he was locked up for examination. He gave his name as George Rochag. He is a German, about thirty-eight years of age, and a carpenter by trade. When arrested he stated that he could not speak English; but when statements were made in his presence that he was certainly a murderer he soon acquired a knowledge of that language and retorted promptly. He made a statement setting forth that on Wednesday night he and the missing man met casually at Elizabeth and stopped for the night at the station house there. The two men formed an acquaintance, and on Thursday morning they both set out for Bergen Point. He at first denied that he knew the man, but when he found he had been seen by the watchman he said he never saw the murdered man till Wednesday, when they slept in the station house at Elizabeth; that yesterday morning he went into a saloon to warm himself and get a hot drink, and then went on toward Bergen Point; that when he got to the bridge he overtook the missing man, who demanded of him fifteen cents and that if he did not give it to him he would "bust him in the nose." He refused to give him the money, when he received a sledge-hammer blow in the face, and that in retaliation he knocked the stranger down and he fell over into the water and disappeared, and that he was forced to do what he did. He said the missing man was a German and about twenty-five years old, and had on a drab overcoat, cap and pants.

THE ALLEGED DEFAULTING PAYMASTER.

In the case of the United States vs. Emanuel Melloch, late paymaster in the United States Navy, who was put on trial in the United States District Court, at Trenton, N. J., on the charge of having embezzled a sum of money placed in his charge, was concluded yesterday. The jury retired and after examining all the papers in the case found a verdict for the defendant, on the ground that there was no cause of action.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WALL STREET,
FRIDAY, March 4—6 P. M.

The day has been one of further excitement in Wall street, and particularly in the Gold Room, where which latter price was made just before the end of street business, late in the afternoon. The extraordinary announcement of the Washington authorities that the imports for the first six months of the fiscal year have been but a trifle in excess of the exports led to a sharp decline in the earliest operations, and 113⅛ was touched five minutes after the Gold Board was called to order. From this figure there was a reaction to 113⅝ and a decline again to 113⅛. At this stage the Gold Room was treated to a number of reports, very general in their character, that Mr. Boutwell, at the solicitation of a delegation of New York business men, intended interfering to keep gold steady, or at least not to depress it further, and the price ran up to 114. But the street soon lost faith in this new situation and gold finally dropped to 112⅝. Here an active buying movement set in on the part of the "shorts" and on the part of those who are now firmly convinced that "gold is cheap," with the effect of putting the price back to 114⅛. The rate for carrying gold ranged from five down to two per cent, with exceptional transactions at "flat" for borrowing. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank were as follows:—Gold cleared, $77,613,000; gold balances, $2,285,670; currency balances, $2,718,580. The chief fluctuations in gold are set forth in the table:—

GOLD DECLINED TO 112⅝ AND REACTED TO 114⅛,

STOCKS STRONG AND ACTIVE.

The stock market at the opening was weak and inclined to go off in a panic with the decline in gold, Northwestern falling to 71½, Central scrip to 92½, Reading to 96⅝, and St. Paul to 62. But here the bull cliques, who were already heavily loaded with stocks, rushed in, and by a bold and desperate movement carried the whole list up between one and two per cent, putting prices to-night where they were night before last when the cliques essayed the second grand advance in the bull campaign for the spring and summer of 1870. They labored like beavers all day and had their agents constantly at work stimulating the market whenever it flagged or whenever it showed signs of following the magnetic example of gold. To "cut loose from gold" was one main object of their efforts, and in running stocks counter to the course of the precious metal they have certainly executed a very difficult thing. When gold became weak and stocks wavered they sent their emissaries into the Gold Room and steadied or strengthened the premium until other operators came to their assistance. The sellers to-day were principally the regular "bear" operators. The buyers were the "bull" cliques only. The public were never so little interested in the market. Outsiders are too apprehensive of a "break" to take hold with the "bull" cliques. Hence the desperate energy of the latter, to whom the future brings life or death—fortunes or bankruptcy. It will be observed, however, that the best prices and the heaviest dealings were for and in the stocks which are the immediate objects of the cliques' solicitude. The rest of the list was dull and prices comparatively less active. The whole situation was made to appear buoyant by the extraordinary attention bestowed on the salient features, such as Rock Island, Northwest, Lake Shore, New York Central and, in the miscellaneous list, Pacific Mail. It is only fair to give the clique view of the situation and their reasons for making so brilliant a fight on the "bull" side. It is evident that other prices are not falling with that of gold, because those prices are regulated by other influences, such as the abundance of paper money in the country, the tariff, taxation and the like. Hence, with gold at par, there is a bottom price for stocks which cannot be far from present figures. But to determine these bottom prices, with the depressing influence of lower gold on the one side and the inflating influence of more abundant money on the other, would require powers of divination greater even than those of an actuary in life assurance or an average adjuster in marine risks. The point is dimly misty in the obscurity of these questions. The cliques are fighting stocks up, because stocks naturally tend to go up in an easy money market, and they argue that for every one per cent gold goes down at least two millions of currency is set free from carrying gold. Should gold go to par two hundred millions of a commodity which is now merchandise, like cotton or produce, and which lies up two hundred and twenty-five millions of currency, would then become currency and really inflate the circulation by adding its volume to the circulating medium. Gold, for carrying which interest is now paid, would then command interest itself. Instead of only eight hundred millions of paper set off against two hundred millions of gold and six hundred millions of general wealth (including stocks, bonds, &c.), the régime of gold at par would give us a thousand millions of money against six hundred millions of general property. The very gold which, on account of its premium, was an object of value and a rival to stocks and merchandise, would, by being added to the stream of money, enhance the same stocks and merchandise. It should, moreover, be borne in mind that the great inflation in England in the beginning of the century, when the South Sea and like bubbles were floated upon the public, and when shares rose to fabulous prices, was the sequence of the return to specie payments, the country being flooded with paper money, the volume of the circulation being increased by the restoration of coin to currency. It was when the government commenced contracting the paper money that the reaction began which ended with the great financial and commercial crash of 1825. Thus it will be seen there are two sets of theorists in the market. The "bulls" look for higher prices. The "bears" expect a grand smash as gold goes to par, and that stocks will be included therein. The following table of highest and lowest prices of the day will exhibit the results of the movement in stocks quite obviously. Owing to an oversight yesterday a misstatement occurred in the comparative prices of New York Central stock and scrip, which was remedied to some extent, however, in the record of closing street prices:—

ALMOST A PANIC IN GOVERNMENTS.

At the first session of the government board there were heavy sales at a sharp decline, the 1867's falling to 109⅛ and the 1862's to 111½. The market rallied subsequently and closed strong, as follows:—United States currency sixes, 110⅛ a 110⅞; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 114⅛ a 115; do. do., coupon, 115 a 115⅛; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 110½ a 110⅞; do. do., 1862, coupon do., 112⅛ a 112⅜; do. do., 1864, do. do., 110½ a 110⅞; do. do., 1865, do. do., 111 a 111⅛; do. do., registered, January and July, 109½ a 110; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 109½ a 109⅞; do. do., 1867, do. do., 110⅛ a 110⅜; do. do., 1868, do. do., 110⅛ a 110⅝; do. ten-forties, registered, 107⅞ a 108; do. do., coupon, 108 a 108⅛; gold bonds, Central Pacific Railroad, 94⅛ a 94⅜.

SOUTHERN SECURITIES.

The Southern list was active and strong for the Virginias, both issues of which are now side by side in the vicinity of 69, although the new bonds were heretofore a greater favorite by as much as ten per cent. The new North Carolinas continued weak. The general market was dull, owing to the diversion of interest to the other markets. The following were the only quotations made at the last board:—Tennessee, ex coupon, 65½ a 50½; do., new, 45⅝ a 45⅞; Virginia, ex coupon, 68⅞ a 69; do., new, 67 a 68; Georgia sevens, 92 a 92½; North Carolina, ex coupon, 46⅞; do., new, 21 [illegible] Louisiana [illegible] a 31½; Missouri sixes, 90⅞; [illegible] sixes, 72 bid; levee sixes, 71½ a 72; do. do. eights, 80 a 83; Alabama eights, 94 a 95; South Carolina sixes, new (January and July), 79½ a 80½.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

was more active, the great decline in gold and the eve of steamer day inducing many merchants to cover their contracts in the present condition of the market rather than take the chances of a reaction next week. Rates remained steady, however, as follows:—Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 107⅞ a 108⅛; good to prime bankers', 108¼ a 108⅜; short sight, 108⅞ a 109⅛; Paris, sixty days, 5.23¾ a 5.19⅜; short sight, 5.18¾ a 5.17½; Antwerp, 5.23¾ a 5.19⅜; Switzerland, 5.23¾ a 5.19⅜; Hamburg, 35⅛ a 36⅛; Amsterdam, 40½ a 40⅝; Frankfort, 40½ a 40⅝; Bremen, 77⅞ a 78⅛; Prussian thalers, 70½ a 71.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

FRIDAY, March 4—6 P. M.

BEESWAX.—The demand was light, and prices were nominal at 33½c. a 35½c. for Western and Southern.

COCOA was dull, but unchanged in value. Guayaquil, in bond, was quoted at 13c. gold, and Maracaibo, do., 29c. a 31c. do.

CANDLES.—The demand was limited, and prices were heavy at 37c. a 40c. for sperm, 33c. for patent and 16c. a 21c. for Western and city adamantine.

CORDAGE was dull, but unchanged. We quote:—Manila, 23c. a 24c.; Sisal rope, 20½c.; Russia tarred, 17c.; Russia bolt rope, 21c.

COFFEE.—The market for Rio was quiet, and we heard of no further sales; prices, however, were steady at former quotations. Other descriptions were also dull, but held for full figures. We quote:—Rio, ordinary cargoes, 14½c. a 14⅝c.; fair do., 15⅛c. a 15½c.; good do., 15c. a 16½c.; prime do., 17c. a 17½c.; extremes for lots, 14½c. a 18c.; Java, 20c. a 21½c.; Singapore, 17c. a 19c.; Ceylon, 17½c. a 19½c.; Maracaibo, 16½c. a 18½c.; Laguayra, 16½c. a 18½c.; Jamaica, 15c. a 18½c.; Costa Rica, Savanilla, Manila and Mexican, 14½c. a 18½c., all gold, duty paid.

COTTON.—Business in this staple was checked to a considerable extent by the decline in gold and the advance in the rates of freight, and prices receded fully ⅛c. per lb., the market closing rather heavy at the reduction. The sales were 2,293 bales, of which 1,552 were for export, 185 for spinning and 550 on speculation. For future delivery the market was fairly active, but prices were again ⅛c. lower. The sales were as follows:—500 bales low middling, for March, at 21⅛c.; 750 do. for April at 21c. a 21⅛c., 350 do. for May at 21c., 1,400 do. for June at 20⅞c. a 21c., 550 do. for do. at 21⅛c., 250 do. for July at 21⅛c., 550 do. for April, May and June at 21c., 200 do. average middling, free on board in Mobile, at 22c., 200 do. average low middling, free on board in New Orleans, at 21⅛c., and date yesterday 200 bales basis low middling for April at 21½c. a 21⅛c., 100 do. for May at 21⅛c. and 50 do. for July at 21⅛c. We quote:—

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—Receipts, 5,330 bbls. flour, 3,630 bags corn meal, 10,840 bushels wheat, 2,500 do. corn, 10,226 do. oats and 400 do. barley. The flour market ruled very dull, but prices were unchanged, save in some cases, where lots were closed out at 5c. a 10c. below yesterday's quotations. The sales were about 5,500 bbls. Southern flour was slow of sale and prices were generally heavy. Sales 400 bbls. Rye flour was in good demand and being scarce prices were higher. Sales 400 bbls. Corn meal was steady, with sales of 250 bbls. We quote:—

—Wheat was dull and heavy. The reported advance of 2d. a 3d. per cental in Liverpool, in the public despatch, was generally discredited, and in view of the decided decline in gold it was impossible to sell at yesterday's prices. The sales were confined to about 18,000 bushels (part last evening), at $1 a $1 01 for rejected spring, $1 14 for No. 2 Chicago, $1 35 a $1 70 for white. Corn was dull, but nominally unchanged. Sales 20,000 bushels at 90c. a 92c. for new mixed Western, and $1 02 a $1 03 for yellow. Oats were dull and nominal. Small lots brought more than full' loads could be sold for. The sales were 25,000 bushels, at 60c. a 62c. for black and white State, 62c. a 62½c. for white Ohio, delivered, and 56½c. for old Western afloat. Rye was quiet but steady. A small lot State was sold at $1 02½. Western was quoted at 95c. Barley was dull and nominal. Of barley malt 1,500 bushels State were sold at 97c. a 98c.

FREIGHTS.—The market was very quiet, but higher rates were generally demanded. For cotton room in the Liverpool steamers 5-16d. a ⅜d. was asked and 5-16d. freely bid. The chartering business continued to rule dull, the demand for all classes of vessels being extremely light. The engagements were:—To Liverpool, 19,000 bushels wheat at 9d., 650 bales cotton at 5-32d. a 3-16d., and per steamer, 700 bales cotton at 5-16d. a ⅜d., 350 boxes bacon at 25s. To London, 1,500 bbls. oil cake at 1s. 7½d., and 1,600 bbls. flour on private terms. To Rio, 300 cases petroleum at 40c. The charters were:—A bark, from Boston to a direct port on the Continent, with 900 tons logwood at 25s.; a British bark, to Rotterdam, general cargo at £540; a brig to the windward and back to a port north of Hatteras, from Porto Rico, with sugar at 50c.; a French ship to Tarragona, with staves; a brig to Oporto or Cadiz, general cargo, and a brig to Demerara and back, on private terms.

GUNNIES.—Cloth continued in good demand, and 500 bales to arrive in Boston were sold at 13c. gold in bond. Of bags, 550 bales to arrive were sold at 19½c. gold in bond.

HAY.—The demand was fair, and prices were steady at 90c. a $1 for shipping, $1 10 a $1 20 for retail lots, $1 a $1 10 for long rye straw and 85c. a 90c. for short do.

HOPS.—There was but little activity in the market, the demand being limited from all sources, but there was no change to note in prices, which were firm, ranging at from 15c. to 25c. for common to choice grades.

HEMP.—No sales of moment were reported; prices were nominal at our last quotations.

LEATHER.—Hemlock sole was in active demand and firm at former prices. The receipts are falling off, and the stock of desirable leather is very light. Heavy of common hide and poor damaged are very scarce and wanted. Oak and rough were dull but unchanged in value. We quote:—

Hemlock.	B. A. & R. Gde.	California.	Orinoco, &c.
Light	29c. a 30c.	28½c. a 29c.	28c. a 28½c.

In New Bedford and Boston 400 bbls. crude sperm were sold a few days ago on private terms.

PROVISIONS.—Receipts, 327 bbls. pork, 785 do. beef, 2,722 packages cut meats, 1,364 bbls. lard, 481 dressed hogs. There was but little demand for pork to-day, and the offerings being fair the market was heavy, and slightly lower prices were accepted in some cases. The sales were 450 bbls., in lots, at $25 75 a $25 25 for ordinary to new mess, the latter closing at $25; also 250 bbls. new mess, for April delivery, at $26, seller's option. Dressed hogs were dull, but unchanged, Western being quoted at 11c. a 11½c. and city at 11½c. a 12½c. Beef was slow of sale at former prices. Sales 150 bbls., at $10 a $17 for plain and extra mess. Tierce beef was dull and nominal at $24 50 a $28 for prime mess and $27 a $31 for India do. Beef hams were firm, with a fair demand, the sales being 150 bbls., at $24 a $31 for Texas and Western, chiefly at $28 a $30 for Texas. Lard was dull and heavy, the offerings being fair. Sales, 210 packages at 13⅞c. a 14⅛c. for No. 1 to prime steamed, the latter closing at 14⅛c. a 14⅛c. For future delivery the sales were 500 tierces, buyer 15 days, at 14⅛c. Bacon was dull and nominal at about 13⅛c. for Cumberland cut, and 14⅛c. for long clear and short rib; 5,000 lbs. bellies, in bulk, were sold at 15⅛c. Cut meats were very active for pickled hams at about former prices, but dull for other kinds. Sales, 1,600 packages at 14⅛c. a 14⅞c. for pickled hams, chiefly at 14⅞c.; 10⅛c. a 11⅛c. for dry salted and pickled shoulders, 17⅛c. a 17c. for smoked do., and 1.c. a 19⅛c. for smoked hams. The market for butter was without decided change. A fair demand prevailed for the fine grades, which were in light supply and firm, but there was but little demand for the low and medium grades, which were plenty and heavy. Cheese was dull, the demand from all sources being extremely light, and prices favored buyers. We quote:—Butter—State, fine half tubs, 37c. a 40c.; fair to good do., 30c. a 35c.; fine firkins, 32c. a 35c.; common to good do., 22c. a 30c.; pails, prime, 35c. a 50c.; fair to good, 30c. a 45c.; Welsh tubs, fine, 30c. a 35c.; common to medium, 22c. a 25c.; Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Missouri, &c., fair to prime firkins, 19c. a 25c.; common to medium do., 15c. a 18c. Cheese—State, fancy factory, 17⅛c. a 17½c.; common to fine do., 12c. a 17c.; farm dairy, prime, 15⅛c. a 16⅛c.; common to fine do., 13c. a 14⅛c.; skimmed, 8c. a 13⅛c.; Ohio, common to prime factory, 9c. a 16⅛c., and common to fine farm dairy, 12⅛c. a 15⅛c.

PETROLEUM.—Crude, on the spot, was scarce, and held at 16⅛c., but for next week's delivery it was obtainable at 15⅛c. a 16⅛c. The demand was very light, and we heard of no sales. Crude, in bbls., was dull and nominal at 20⅞c. Refined oil was still slow of sale. The demand from all classes of buyers was extremely light, and prices were heavy and nominal at 28c. a 28⅛c. We heard of no sales of moment. Jobbing lots were selling moderately at 31⅛c. a 31½c.—the latter price for prime white. Naphtha was in fair request, and sales were made of 1,000 bbls. at 10c., and 2,000 do. for September to December at 11c. In Philadelphia the market was dull and lower for spot, but active and firm for future delivery. The sales were 6,000 bbls. standard white for April to September at 29c., which price was bid and refused at the close, 2,000 do. for April to August at 28c., 2,500 do. for March to July at 26⅛c. 4,000 do. for May to December at 29c., and 1,000 do. for March at 27⅛c. Oil on the spot closed at 27c.

RICE.—The business in Carolina was light, there being but little demand, but prices were quite steady. Small sales were made within the range of 6c. a 7½c. for common to choice.

SUGAR.—The market for raw was dull, the demand continuing light, and with fair offerings prices were heavy. To effect sales to any extent holders would have been obliged to grant a concession of ⅛c. a ⅛c. per lb. The sales were 275 hhds., part at 9⅛c., and 750 boxes at 10c. a 10⅝c. Refined was slow of sale and heavy at the following quotations:—Hard, 13⅞c. a 13⅞c.; soft white, 12⅞c. a 13c.; extra C, 12⅛c. a 12⅛c., and yellow, 11⅛c. a 12⅛c. We quote:—Cuba—Inferior to common refining, 8c. a 9⅛c.; fair refining, 9⅛c.; good refining, 9⅛c.; fair to good grocery, 10⅛c. a 10⅛c.; prime to choice grocery, 10⅞c. a 11c.; centrifugal, hhds. and boxes, 9c. a 11⅛c.; molasses, hhds. and boxes, 8⅛c. a 10c.; melado, 5c. a 7⅛c. Havana—Boxes, Dutch standard, Nos. 7 to 9, 9⅛c. a 9⅞c.; do., Nos. 10 to 12, 10c. a 10⅛c.; do., Nos. 13 to 15, 10⅞c. a 11⅛c.; do., Nos. 16 to 18, 11⅛c. a 12⅛c.; do., Nos. 19 to 20, 13c. a 13⅛c.; do., white, 12⅛c. a 13⅛c. Porto Rico—Refining grades, 9⅛c. a 10c.; grocery grades, 10⅛c. a 11⅛c.

SEEDS.—Linseed was quite steady, with a fair demand, the sales being 5,000 bags to arrive soon at $2 25, gold, duty paid, and 2,800 do. to arrive (late shipment) at $2 17½ do. Grass were dull and nominal at 13c. a 13½c. for clover, $4 50 a $4 75 for timothy, and $2 25 a $2 50 for rough flax.

SHOT.—Drop was quoted at 9⅛c. and buck at 9⅞c.

SOAP.—Small sales of Castile were made at 12⅞c. a 12⅞c.

STEARINE.—The market was dull and heavy. About 10,000 lbs. were sold at 14c. a 14⅛c.—the latter price for prime, in tierces.

TOBACCO.—For Kentucky the market was quiet, there being but little demand and prices favored buyers, though no lower; the sales were about 100 hhds. at 8c. a 12c. Seed-leaf was dull at former figures; the sales were only 41 cases (Connecticut) State at 16⅛c. and 30 do. various kinds, in lots, on private terms. Other kinds were dull at our quotations. TALLOW.—The demand was active and prices were quite steady. The sales were about 250,000 lbs. (part late yesterday) at 9⅛c. a 9⅛c.

WHISKEY.—Receipts, 1,029 bbls. The market was more active, but prices were lower, closing at about 99½c. The sales were 750 bbls. at 99c. a $1 for patent and iron bound.

WOOL.—There is a fair degree of activity in the market for fleece, prices for which continue to rule firm. The supply of all grades is very light, and sellers generally look for higher prices soon in consequence. For pulled wool the demand is fairly active, and prices are steady and firm at former quotations, with moderate offerings. California is selling quite freely at full prices, the demand being chiefly for fall clip, the offerings of which are only moderate. Texas is slow of sale, the demand being light, but prices are steady. For foreign the market is dull and prices are heavy and unsettled. The sales were 145,000 lbs. fleece at 45c. a 55c., including 20,000 No. 1 and above Ohio at 47c. a 50c., 2,000 Western at 45c., 11,000 XX and above Ohio at 52½c. a 55c., 10,000 Indiana on private terms, 2,000 unwashed at 34c., 36,000 X and XX Pennsylvania at 49c. a 50c. a 52½c., 31,000 scoured at 84c. a 80c., 70,000 Michigan at 48c. a 48½c.; also 75,000 lbs. pulled at 32½c. a 37c. for Western and No. 1, 41c. a 45c. for super and extra, 61c. for mestiza; 25,000 lbs. Donskoi, and 1,500 lbs. Smyrna on private terms.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

Ann Porter, the woman who was burned severely about the body while in bed at her residence in James street, died from the effects of her injuries at the City Hospital on Thursday night last.

At about half-past six o'clock last evening a kerosene lamp exploded in the millinery store of Mrs. Fastneck, No. 37 Ewen street, E. D., and severely burned that lady's face. The flames also destroyed a portion of the stock, but were extinguished without damaging the building.

The Brooklyn Association for Relieving the Condition of the Poor report having assisted 11.662 persons during the month of February, the disbursements amounting to $6.404. It is stated that notwithstanding the mildness of the season the applications for assistance have been as great as in any former year.

A call has been issued from the Dealers' Protective Agency, signed by several business men, for a mass meeting, to be held at Phenix Building, Court street, on Monday evening. The object of the meeting is to "devise means by which the present law, relative to collection of debts, may be altered, that it may not be entirely, as it is now, in favor of the habitual debtor."

Justice Walsh yesterday imposed a fine of twenty-five dollars upon an elderly man named Dennis Ryan for assault and battery. The complainant in the case was Edward Ryan, who accused his father of striking him in the face with his fist. It was shown in the testimony taken that the father beat his daughters Maggie and Mary, two young girls, and attempted to break the arm of the former across his knee, which act so enraged their brother that he interfered in their defence and was knocked down for his trouble.

SERIOUS SALOON AFFRAY.

A few nights ago a party of rowdies entered the saloon of Mr. Fred. Gassert, in Harrison township, N. J., and because they could not have all they desired in the shape of drink they commenced a furious attack upon the place, the proprietor and a Mr. Schabel. With the aid of a stout club, Gassert succeeded in beating off the ruffians, not before, however, he himself had received very hard treatment. John Haley and Thomas Duffey, the alleged principals, have since been arrested and committed to the Hudson county jail. Duffey has three criminal indictments already to answer for. Schabel and Gassert are under bail to appear as witnesses.

THE BROADWAY BOND ROBBERY.

Continuation of the Trial of Jerome Bradley—Close of the Case on Both Sides—The Jury to be Charged This Morning.

The trial of Jerome Bradley, charged with the larceny of $150,000 worth of United States bonds and securities, was resumed yesterday in the General Sessions before Recorder Hackett.

At the adjournment of the Court on the previous day Mr. Gasper K. Herbert, counsel for Johnson (who who was jointly indicted with Bradley), was placed upon the stand. The Recorder said that he gave the objection of the prisoner's counsel a close examination and was satisfied that Mr. Herbert was competent to testify. Mr. Herbert proceeded to state that Bradley told him that he (Bradley) gave the bonds to Johnson, and also furnished him with $28,000 to redeem them; he also said that he wished Johnson would not disclose his name; that he (Johnson), by giving his (Bradley's) name, had involved him, and he was not, therefore, able to help him as much as he wanted to do; that it was no use to have him (Bradley) arrested, because he could not be held; the precise language used by Bradley to the witness was, "It would have been all right with Johnson if he had not let his bowels out."

MOTION TO DISMISS.

The case for the people having been closed, Mr. McCarthy moved to have the case taken from the jury and dismissed on the ground that the possession of two bonds traced to Bradley a year after the larceny was committed was not sufficient to warrant a conviction.

The Recorder refused the motion, after which the associate counsel of the accused proceeded to open the defence.

TESTIMONY FOR THE DEFENCE.

Mr. Morrison was recalled, and stated that about three months after the box containing the securities was stolen a portion of them was returned through the mail, the exact amount of which he could not tell, but he remembered that there was a package of $5,265 in Southern money. Some nine months after the larceny Mr. Morrison bought some of the stolen bonds of a broker in Wall street—viz., $7,000 of Chicago and Northwestern ten per cent equipment bonds, negotiable in Boston. The bank that held those bonds gave them up to him by his paying the amount of the loan that was made on them.

William J. McGrath and Charles H. Hall, clerks at the Tombs Police Court, identified the testimony taken before Justice Hogan at the preliminary examination of the accused.

Philip Farley was recalled, and said that Johnson told him he received a portion of the bonds from a man named Clark and a portion from Bradley.

Charles C. Suydam, a broker, and Andrew J. Bixby, chief clerk for Fisk & Hatch, were called to prove that government bonds, such as the ones in question, were negotiable upon the endorsement of the payee, executed in the presence of a notary.

Carolan O'Brien Bryant was called up again, and said that one of the three bonds upon which he first advanced money passed through the house of Jay Cooke & Co., and was now detained in Washington. In the interview which the witness had with Johnson, the latter's statements were always directed to Mr. Clark at the commencement, but observing Mr. Bradley in his office he said Bradley was redeeming the bonds.

William E. Gilbert, a former partner of Bradley, testified that he received a note from Mr. Herbert requesting him to tell Bradley that he wanted to see him at his office respecting the bonds in question; Herbert, Gilbert and Bradley were in a Broadway saloon, when Bradley and Herbert had a confidential private interview for half an hour.

William H. Chesley, a Brooklyn contractor, stated that he knew Johnson and Bryant; that Johnson came to him desiring a loan upon $20,000 of five-twenty bonds; that he took them and left one with Henry C. Murphy and negotiated the other three with Mr. Coit.

William N. Coit, a broker, testified that he received three $5,000 five-twenties from Mr. Chesley on the 30th of November, upon which he asked a loan of $12,000 for ten days; subsequently Mr. Coit brought those bonds to the police stolen after having learned that they were stolen.

THE ACCUSED ON THE STAND.

Jerome Bradley, the accused, was the last witness examined by counsel. His statement was that he never was at 374 Broadway, and did not know anything about the larceny; that he had known Johnson for two years, and had met the Clark that was spoken of in this case; that Mr. Herbert was his counsel in civil suits, and on one occasion he was in his private office, and he (Herbert) spoke about the arrest of Johnson for negotiating or receiving stolen bonds; Bradley stated to Herbert that he understood Johnson said he was mixed up in the matter; Herbert said that Johnson did not make such a statement. Bradley expressed himself anxious to help Johnson in any way possible; the next time Bradley met Herbert was at the police court, and after the examination he said to him that he thought he had sworn to that which was not true; he said that he had to do it in order to save his client; Johnson told Bradley that he had made a loan upon some government bonds, that there was some trouble about them, and asked him for the loan of some money to take them up; that he had to take $15,000 up the next day; Bradley raised the money the next day to take up the $15,000 in bonds; Johnson had about $8,000 of Bradley's money, they having been engaged in dealing in mining stocks; he told the accused that he had taken $5,000 of that money to take up another bond that belonged to another loan that he had made, and that he would return the money in a day or two; Bradley did not get the money back, for Johnson was arrested the day after, and he (Bradley) shortly after, on Johnson's affidavit; a man named Clark asked Bradley to procure him a loan on some government bonds, and he referred him to Johnson, whom they met at Delmonico's. Clark at that time gave Johnson a package and said it contained bonds; he promised to give him the money that day, but did not do so till the next day or the day after, when he gave him the money for them; Bradley said that so far as the three bonds which Johnson swore he first received from Clark at his direction they were never in his ownership.

Counsel on both sides then summed up, after which the Recorder said he would charge the jury in the morning. The court then adjourned.

PATRIOTS' PAY.

Cripples, Widows and Orphans Receiving Their Semi-Annual Pensions—Arrest of Twenty Bogus War Widows.

Yesterday, according to a long established custom, was the day for the semi-annual payment of pensions to wounded soldiers and to the heirs of those who were killed, and who according to law are entitled to a specified sum under certain conditions. At the office of the Sub-Treasury, fronting on Nassau street and entered through the basement, the crowds began to collect on Thursday evening, so anxious were the crippled pensioners to obtain their meagre pittances. Those who are seen about the streets grinding hand organs; those who keep stalls about the City Hall, sell papers or pursue itinerant vocations up or down, were the first to put in their appearance. The vast majority of the pensioners yesterday at the Sub-Treasury were cripples, and were frequently bereft of a leg and an arm. The payment began at six o'clock in the morning, and continued without intermission throughout the day. The pensioners presented their printed applications, to which they attested by affidavit. A receipt (attached) was then filled up, their names appended and the amount paid over in greenbacks, put up in small envelopes at the Sub-Treasury, in varying sums, to suit the different classes of pensioners. The payments were made in person by Colonel Van Buren. In every individual case they covered the amount due for six months. Disabled privates receive twelve dollars during the six months for the slightest injury, and ninety dollars for a lost limb. Invalid second lieutenants receive $15 per month, first lieutenants, $17; captains, $20; majors, $25; lieutenant colonels, $30, and so on; but the payment never exceeds thirty dollars per month for any rank. Colonel Van Buren paid out $40,030 yesterday, and expects to-day and on Monday to expend $40,000 more. Then the rush will be over.

AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE.

The female pensioners gathered here at an early hour. They were in a most wretched condition. Many were aged, many infirm, despairing and destitute. It was a scene for the philanthropist. Of course they were surrounded by sharpers, pimps, beats and cormorants, ready to prey upon their haggard pittances. The smallest amount paid them was forty-eight dollars for the six months and the largest amount $300. These amounts are supposed to compensate the death of a husband, brother or father. General Lawrence paid out $22,000 yesterday to about 375 women. Twenty cases were reported of attempted frauds where women who formerly had been pensioners, but had since become married and thereby forfeited all pecuniary claims upon the government, had presented claims. These cases were made known to General Lawrence by enemies of the swindling women. They will be brought up for examination before the United States Commissioner. The payment continues to-day.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.

An Aged Knickerbocker the Victim—Censure of the New Haven Railroad Company.

Mr. Andrew McGown was born in this city nearly eighty-five years ago, as were also his father and his grandfather. It was after the elder McGown that "McGown's Pass," located in the rocks about 100th street and Third avenue, and well remembered by the oldest inhabitants, was named. The McGowns were among the first settlers of Manhattan Island, and were well known to the old Knickerbocker families. For some years past Andrew McGown has been quite deaf, and it was with difficulty that he could hear unless addressed in an unusually loud tone of voice. On Tuesday last Mr. McGown attempted to cross Fourth avenue at 128th street in advance of an approaching train of cars belonging to the New Haven Railroad Company. The engineer, seeing the danger, blew the alarm whistle, which, unfortunately, Mr. McGown did not hear, and in a moment or two afterwards the locomotive struck and threw him aside with great violence. The shock to his nervous system was so severe that death ensued some hours subsequently, at the residence of deceased, 127th street, near Fourth avenue. Coroner Keenan gave the matter a thorough investigation, and the evidence of several witnesses being submitted to the jury they returned the following

VERDICT:

"That Andrew McGown came to his death by being struck by a locomotive of a New Haven train at the crossing of 128th street and Fourth avenue on Tuesday, March 1, 1870. We exculpate the engineer, but censure the company for the rate of speed at which their trains are usually run and for not placing a flagman at this and other crossings."

THE DEATH OF THOMAS J. FLYNN.

The Drowning Believed to Have Been Accidental—The Gold Watch Still Missing.

Coroner Keenan has in charge the case of Mr. Thomas J. Flynn, who was found drowned in the dock foot of Thirty-fourth street, North river, as heretofore reported, but may not conclude the inquisition for several days to come. The friends of deceased do not seem to believe that he was a victim of intentional violence; but it is desirable for them to trace his movements from the time he returned with friends from a funeral at Calvary Cemetery till he was found dead in the water. It is believed that after crossing the ferry Mr. Flynn entered a Belt Railroad car and, perhaps falling asleep, was carried too far up town when the conductor aroused him. In leaving the car perhaps Mr. Flynn became confused in his mind as to the course he should take, and walked overboard. Dr. Thomas C. Knox, of Carmine and Bedford streets, made a careful examination of the deceased, and found no external marks of violence on the body. All the valuables, except his watch, as also papers Mr. Flynn had in his possession, were untouched, and all the circumstances so far as developed indicate that Mr. Flynn was accidentally drowned. It seems to be certain that the gold watch of deceased was in his pocket when the attention of officer McQuade, of the Twentieth precinct, was called to the body by some laborers who found it. Captain Caffrey is to prefer charges against one or two of the members of his force in relation to the missing timepiece.

MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1870.

Heavy Land Grants for Railroad Purposes.

The House Pacific Railroad Committee at its meeting to-day agreed to report favorably on the bill to extend the time for completing the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad; the bill to authorize a junction between the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific, and the bill granting the right of way and a land subsidy to the Kansas branch of the Pacific Railroad to build a road from Cheyenne Wells to a point in northern Mexico. The committee has had these bills under consideration for weeks, and at every meeting the committee room has been crowded with the lobbyists who are here in the employ of the several companies to put the scheme through. The bill for the benefit of the Atlantic and Pacific road gives no additional subsidy or land grant, but simply provides that the privileges and franchises heretofore granted by Congress shall not be forfeited by the failure of the the company to complete its road within the time originally prescribed. The Kansas Pacific Railroad bill involves an enormous land grant of several hundred thousand acres. Most of it is said to be excellent agricultural land. The relative of a prominent radical Senator is president of this company and its lobby agent is an ex-Secretary of the Interior.

The Proposed Removal of the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

William E. Robinson, of Brooklyn, appeared this morning before the House Committee on Naval Affairs and submitted arguments against the removal of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, as detrimental to the interests of the city and of the entire country. General Slocum followed with some remarks on the other side, and Mr. Robinson briefly responded. General Slocum is the present and Mr. Robinson the past representative in Congress from the district in which the Navy Yard is situated. The committee having authorized representatives Slocum and Starkweather to draw up a bill they have done so, providing the Navy Yard shall be sold and its operations removed to some other point.

The Banking and Currency Committee.

The Committee on Banking and Currency had a meeting to-day and discussed the general business before them, but did not take definite action on any bill. The work of the committee is much behind on account of the time spent in the gold panic investigation, and the chairman is determined to hold meetings daily until the work is brought up. The question of the premature publication of the evidence of the gold investigation was discussed, and the clerk of the committee, who had been charged with giving it out, was exonerated from blame.

The Proposed Increase of the Currency.

The Committee on Banking and Currency at their meeting to-day had an interchange of views on the instructions of the House to report a bill increasing the volume of the currency $50,000,000. The committee are at a loss to know whether it was intended the increase should be in greenbacks or in national bank notes, and therefore the character of the bill is yet undetermined. It is probable that in this connection they will report a plan for the funding of the national debt. They will carefully consider the entire question.

Currency and Gold Balances in the Treasury.

At the close of business hours to-day the currency balance in the Treasury was $9,678,475 36. The gold balance was $103,051,473 24, of which $44,512,340 represent gold certificates outstanding, leaving an available gold balance of $57,539,033 24. The receipts from internal revenue have been very heavy for the last four days, averaging nearly a million a day.

The New Minister to Liberia.

James W. Mason, who was to-day nominated as Minister Resident and Consul General at Liberia, is a mulatto and a native and resident of Chicot county, Arkansas, where he is now largely engaged in planting. After graduating in Oberlin College, Ohio, he was taken by his father to Paris, where he again graduated at a French national school. Enlisting in the French army he served throughout the Crimean war and was brevetted lieutenant colonel for distinguished services. About a year ago he was nominated as Judge of the Court at Cape Town; but, owing to unfavorable legislation in regard to the continuance of the courts in Africa, he declined the appointment. His present nomination as Minister to Liberia was made on the recommendation and at the instance of Senator McDonald.

An Exceptional Pension Case.

The House to-day passed a bill giving to a colored man residing in the District of Columbia, who lost both feet at the second battle of Bull Run, a pension commencing from 1862. It appears this man, being a teamster and an employé of the Quartermaster, his name was not on the muster rolls. His case for this and other reasons received an unfavorable report in the present as in the preceding Congress. In opposition to the claim it was urged that its passage would set a precedent requiring an expenditure of two or three millions dollars every year to meet similar exceptional cases, for which provision would have to be made in addition to the expenditure of thirty-three or thirty-five millions per annum for pensions. It was stated in the debate that thousands of petitions to meet cases not provided for by law had already been presented to Congress relating to injuries for life sustained by persons who, though not mustered into the service, were employed in connection with the military movements and jeopardized their lives as much as those who were enrolled.

Official Records of the Rebellion.

In compliance with a resolution directing him to report what progress has been made in the preparation for the publication of the official documents relating to the rebellion or the operations of the army, as provided for in the act of July 27, 1866, the Secretary of War to-day informed the Senate that Peter H. Watson, the person appointed to perform said duties, did not do so and received no compensation. The Secretary states that the only additional legislation now required on the subject is to revive the joint resolution of July 27, 1866, and amend it so as to provide for the publication of such documents only as are found to be of historical importance and value, by which means the proposed work would be greatly reduced in size and cost without decreasing its usefulness.

Repealing the Test Oath.

Senator Robertson, from the Committee on Disabilities, to-day reported favorably Senator Ferry's bill to repeal the Test Oath act of July 2, 1862, and it is believed the bill will soon be passed by both Houses. It relieves all persons of disabilities except those disqualified under the fourteenth amendment.

Executive Nominations.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate to-day:—George H. Butler, of California, to be Consul at Alexandria, Egypt; Almon A. Thompson, of Michigan, to be Consul at Goderich; F. P. Meigs, of Tennessee, to be Consul at Montevideo; James W. Mason, of Arkansas, to be Minister Resident and Consul General in Liberia; James Riley Weaver, of West Virginia, to be Consul at Antwerp; David J. Williamson, of California, to be Consul at Callao.

Nomination Withdrawn.

The President has determined to sustain General Adrian R. Root, collector of internal revenue for the Thirteenth (Buffalo) district of New York, and therefore has withdrawn from before the Senate the name of George R. Kibbe, who had been nominated as General Root's successor.

Special Postal Agent for New Mexico.

Isaac W. Dawley has been appointed special Post Office Department Agent for Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, vice N. B. Duffield removed.

The Tobacco Tax.

The delegation of the National Tobacco Convention had an interview of three hours to-day with the Committee on Ways and Means concerning the tax on tobacco and cigars. Mr. Straiton, of New York, made an argument against a reduction of the tariff on imported cigars and in favor of a specific tax on all kinds of tobacco. He showed that the government derived a revenue of $6,000,000 a year from cigars out of the $29,000,000 received from tobacco and cigars. He adduced statistics to show that the manufacture of cigars gave employment to over 41,000 persons. Mr. Spence argued in favor of a specific tax of sixteen cents a pound on all kinds of tobacco. The committee promised to give the matter careful consideration, and acknowledged that they had received some valuable information from the delegation as to the tobacco trade.

Sailing of the Monarch.

The Monarch sailed from Annapolis to-day for Portsmouth, England.

Statistics of Commerce and Navigation.

Mr. Edward Young, chief of the Bureau of Statistics, furnishes in advance the following synopsis of Monthly Report No. 4, current series, now nearly ready for distribution. It exhibits the trade of the United States with foreign countries for the month of October, 1869, and the ten months ended the same, compared with the corresponding periods of 1868:—

	Imports, gold values.	Exports, mixed values.	Re-exports, foreign commodities.
Month ending October 31, 1869	$34,860,675	$43,310,294	$2,857,916
Month ending October 31, 1868	32,157,792	29,393,778	1,558,378
Ten months ending October 31, 1869	339,432,418	365,199,741	25,105,835
Ten months ending October 31, 1868	231,810,685	339,806,578	18,228,454

The proportions of the foregoing shipped in American and foreign vessels respectively were as follows:—

MONTH ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1869.

	Imports.	Exports.	Re-Exports.
American vessels	$10,013,746	$15,491,640	$616,947
Foreign vessels	24,846,949	27,818,645	2,240,969

TEN MONTHS ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1869.

	Imports.	Exports.	Re-Exports.
American vessels	$114,404,172	$119,986,52?	$13,935,638
Foreign vessels	275,058,24?	245,213,21?	11,172,197

Of the imports for October, 1869, $25,557,623 were dutiable, $22,707,336 entered for consumption and $12,153,309 entered warehouse. Of the total imports for the ten months ending October 31, 1869, $358,523,646 were dutiable, $230,733,027 entered for consumption and $168,724,391 entered warehouse.

The total value of foreign commodities remaining in warehouse October 31, 1869, was $49,705,711, as compared with $38,776,452 in October, 1868.

The following were the entrances and clearances of vessels engaged in the foreign trade during the ten months ended October, 1869.

	ENTERED.		CLEARED.
	Number.	Tons.	Number.	Tons.
American vessels	8,767	2,879,055	8,578	2,908,131
Foreign vessels	17,172	4,857,293	17,099	4,856,177

TEN MONTHS ENDED OCTOBER 31, 1868.

	ENTERED.		CLEARED.
	Number.	Tons.	Number.	Tons.
Foreign vessels	15,560	4,065,051	15,779	4,263,955

The report gives a comparative statement, showing the value of total imports from and total exports to the various foreign countries for each of the twelve fiscal years from 1855 to 1869, inclusive. It also contains the tariff of Japan, the usual commercial reports and miscellany, the exports of gold from New York, and partial statements of imports and exports up to December 31, 1869.

Among the new features introduced into the present number are the following:—A comparative statement of the monthly collections of internal revenue for the first six months of the fiscal years 1868–69 and 1869–70; a statement of the public debt for the 1st of March; valuable statistics in relation to the rates of labor and cost of subsistence in Germany, translated and compiled from official documents.

The statements of revenue collections and of the public debt will hereafter be continued each month, and, together with the customary statement of imports, exports and other commercial statistics, will form a valuable permanent record for preservation and reference. The statistics on wages and subsistence in Germany, in the present number, will be followed in the succeeding numbers by similar statistics from Belgium and other countries. Every effort is making to render these reports of greater value, not only to statisticians, public men and the mercantile community, but to those practically engaged in the industrial pursuits of the country.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

Second Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1870.

THE TEST OATH.

Mr. ROBERTSON, (rep.) of S. C., from the Committee on Disabilities, reported favorably the bill recently introduced by Mr. Ferry, repealing the Test Oath act of 1862. The bill was read and ordered to be placed on the calendar.

REMOVAL OF POLITICAL DISABILITIES.

Mr. REVELS, (rep.) of Miss., presented a resolution from the Legislature of Mississippi for a speedy removal of the political disabilities of all the citizens of that State. Referred to the Committee on Disabilities.

NATIONAL SCHOOL SYSTEM.

Mr. DRAKE, (rep.) of Mo., presented a memorial of the National Association of State and City Superintendents of Public Instruction, adopted at a meeting in Washington, D. C., yesterday, asking Congress to take measures to inaugurate a system of public instruction by national schools similar to that inaugurated under the Freedmen's Bureau. Referred to the Committee on Education and Labor.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURTS.

On motion of Mr. TRUMBULL, (rep.) of Ill., the bill changing the circuits of the United States Supreme Court was taken up, and Mr. Trumbull concluded his remarks in explanation of the authority of Congress to impose qualifications on nominees of the President for Supreme Court judgeships. He claimed that the Presidential power of appointment of the recently created circuit judgeships was derived from the act of Congress creating the offices.

Mr. DAVIS, (dem.) of Ky., argued that the act of Congress merely regulated the number of judges, and that the office itself existed by authority of the constitution.

CLAIMS OF LOYALISTS FOR PROPERTY TAKEN BY THE ARMY.

Mr. HOWE, (rep.) of Wis., called up the bill for the settlement of the claims for quartermasters and commissary stores furnished to or taken by the United States within the States in rebellion during the late war. The bill was read, referring all claims for commissary supplies and quartermasters' stores furnished by loyal persons to the army of the United States to the commissary and quartermaster generals to be decided upon by them as to the sum; no claims to be paid until Congress appropriates the money.

Mr. JOHNSON, (dem.) of Va., offered an amendment to include all claims for the rent of buildings and occupation of lands.

Mr. HOWE, in the course of some remarks, expressed the opinion that the amount of claims under the bill would not exceed five millions of dollars, and asserted his confidence in the Quartermaster and Commissary Generals.

Mr. RICE, (rep.) of Ark., favored the bill as a means of enabling the claimants to preserve in the departments the perfected proof of their claims.

Mr. CONKLING, (rep.) of N. Y., believed the proposed investigation would degenerate into a mere auditing of accounts. The main point of his objection to the bill was that in place of a harmless proceeding to prevent the disappearance of testimony, the ex parte statements of claimants were to be taken without the government being represented, and Congress was to be committed to a distinction in favor of loyal residents of the South during the war in the matter of compensation for loss or injury inflicted by the war. The conclusion that the government was not liable for such loss or injury was shown in the case of Miss Sue Murphy, though the loyalty of the claimant was then demonstrated. The question had been decided adversely to all such cases in both houses.

Mr. WILSON, (rep.) of Mass., believed the sooner all these claims were examined and settled the better for the Treasury. He favored the compensation of all in the South who had been faithful to the government during the war upon requisite proof. By deferring the day of settlement bogus claims would be trumped up by unscrupulous persons.

Mr. COLE, (rep.) of Cal., objected to the amendment as opening the door to claims for trespass on real estate, which had not heretofore been recognized. This would require payment for the lands occupied by Sherman's army in its "march to the sea," and by all our armies. He admitted that the estimate of five millions made by the chairman of the Committee on Claims (Mr. Howe) might cover the amount of just claims; but the just and unjust together would exceed that by many millions. He held that during the progress of a war damage necessarily resulted for which there could be no remedy, and that a large class of claims properly came under this head.

Mr. JOHNSON then withdrew his amendment.

Mr. TRUMBULL said all our legislation hitherto was based upon the theory that the territory over which the rebels had control was that of an enemy, and all within it were regarded as enemies, and we had refused to pay for property taken therein. The bill proposed to change that policy and pay for property taken by our army in the enemy's country. He did not understand there was any obligation upon the government to do that. He recognized not alone the hardship inflicted upon those whose property had been taken, but the hardship upon our armies in their marches and sufferings. No government had yet undertaken to pay for property taken in the enemy's country; and if we now adopted the principle of paying for property taken and not receipted for by the quartermasters we should very soon be asked to pay for all the property destroyed in the South. While entertaining the highest confidence in the Quartermaster and Commissary Generals, he preferred to leave the adjudication of these claims to the Court of Claims, where all the machinery was present for arriving at the truth. Under an act of Congress that court could not pass upon a claim until the loyalty of the claimant was positively established.

Mr. WILLIAMS, (rep.) of Oregon, offered an amendment declaring the act to provide only for the examination of such claims, and not to create any obligation for their payment.

Mr. WILLEY, (rep.) of W. Va., read a lengthy written argument upon the obligations of the government, under the law of nations, to pay for private property taken for public use, and in support of the bill, upon the justice and necessity of compensating the Southern loyalists for property taken by the government.

Mr. STEWART, (rep.) of Nev., said that active Union men in the South, as the war progressed, were deprived of their property, and consequently the bill would relieve only the rebel class, who professed friendship for both sides and would make the war a speculation. These only, and not the poor Unionists, were the owners of property at the time our armies went through the South. He, therefore, would recommit the bill, with instructions to the committee to report an amendment providing that all claims over $500 favorably reported upon by the Quartermaster and Commissary Generals shall be submitted to the Court of Claims, with power to the court to diminish, but not to increase, the amount.

The Senate then, shortly before five o'clock, adjourned until Monday.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 1870.

THE MASSOIN AND MONTANA INDIANS.

Mr. INGERSOLL, (rep.) of Ill., offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for all information in his department relative to the late expedition against the Piegan Indians. Adopted.

WYOMING MILITIA BILL.

Mr. SHANKS, (rep.) of Ind., introduced a bill to organize the militia of the Territory of Wyoming. Referred.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION.

The morning hour having expired,

Mr. WOOD, (dem.) of N. Y., rose to a personal explanation. About the time the investigation as to the sale of cadetships commenced he had noticed in the Washington correspondence of the New York Tribune a statement that he had appointed a cadet out of his district. He had taken no notice of that statement. Subsequently the same correspondent had stated that he (Mr. Wood) had appointed a son of General Gilmore, a resident of Ohio, and that the cadet himself was not a resident of his district. He had taken no notice of that. But he now found that the same statement, with additions, had been copied in some of the Ohio, Illinois and Indiana newspapers, and he therefore thought it incumbent on him to rise and say that the charge was false entirely. He had made no appointment out of his Congressional district, nor had he appointed the son of a man who did not live in his district. He called upon the chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs to state whether there was anything before that committee to substantiate the allegations made against him.

Mr. LOGAN, (rep.) of Ill., chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, explained that one of the witnesses in the case of Mr. Whittemore had stated that Mr. Wood had appointed a person not living in his district, naming General Gilmore's son; but the same witness had subsequently written to the committee to correct his testimony, saying that he had ascertained on returning to New York that he had been mistaken, and asking to have the statement as to Mr. Wood struck out of his evidence. That was all there was of it.

Mr. WOOD remarked that the Tribune correspondent must, if he knew anything at all about the case, have known that which the chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs had just stated. As the House extended the privileges of the reporter's gallery to the representatives of the press he hoped that at least the reputations of the members would not be held up to censure in a case where there was no ground of justification whatever for it. Although he had been in Congress ten or twelve years he had never made an appointment either to the Military or Naval Academy where the appointee did not reside in his district.

DEFICIENCY BILL.

Mr. LAWRENCE, (rep.) of Ohio, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported a deficiency bill for the following items for the service of the House:—Folding documents, including material and labor, $37,500; for three mail carriers, $3,285; for laborers, $6,125; total, $46,910. The bill was passed.

NEW PORTS OF ENTRY.

Mr. INGERSOLL introduced a bill to revive an act constituting Hannibal, Mo., and Peoria, Ill., ports of delivery. Referred.

Mr. CLEVELAND, (dem.) of N. J., introduced a bill erecting a collection district in New Jersey, to be called the district of Jersey City, and constituting Jersey City a port of entry. Passed.

Mr. BOYD introduced a bill to create the Southern Judicial district of Missouri. Referred.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE DELAWARE RIVER.

Mr. HAIGHT, (dem.) of N. J., offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the necessity of removing obstructions from the Delaware river between Bordentown and Trenton, so as to facilitate commerce between Philadelphia and Trenton.

THE GEORGIA BILL.

At three o'clock P. M. the Georgia bill came up, and

Mr. BUTLER, (rep.) of Mass., proposed to let it be discussed to-day and to-morrow and to have the vote taken on Monday, no other business to be transacted to-morrow. Agreed to without objection.

Mr. BUTLER addressed the House in explanation and advocacy of the bill. He argued that Georgia presented herself now for the first time, asking in proper guise for admission. She never had been admitted by law. Two of her representatives had been admitted to the House, but admitted under a mistake of facts; but it had been thought that Georgia had been organized honestly, fairly and legally. After stating various reasons for the passage of the bill he said that it was necessary for another, grander and more comprehensive reason, and that was because it was a grave and solemn exercise of the power of Congress over States which, having got into the Union, undertook to oppress citizens of the United States, and to rebel against the laws and against the spirit of the constitution. The State of Tennessee, for instance, believing herself beyond the power of Congress, had proceeded to abrogate every law and every constitutional provision on which she was admitted to representation. If the judgment of the House went with his own he proposed to exhibit also to Tennessee the power of Congress against wrong and rapine and murder. The Governor of Tennessee had sent a message to the Legislature stating that he was utterly powerless to protect the citizens of Tennessee against organized bands of robbers and murderers; but the Legislature had adjourned without providing any such means. Hundreds of men were being murdered weekly in Tennessee, and there was no redress. He proposed to bring the condition of that State, very soon, to the attention of the House and the country.

Mr. HAWKINS, (rep.) of Tenn., inquired of Mr. Butler where those murders were committed.

Mr. BUTLER—In Tennessee.

Mr. HAWKINS—Whereabouts?

Mr. BUTLER—All over the State. Like the man with the smallpox, they break out all over. (Laughter.)

Mr. HAWKINS—I have never heard of such things.

Mr. BUTLER—None so deaf as those who will not hear. I have the presentments of two grand juries in that State saying that they are utterly powerless against the bands of organized ruffians there, and we ought to deal with Georgia so as to demonstrate to the world that we have not abrogated and abnegated the power of Congress to deal with men, wherever they may be, under whatever sort of State obligations, who render the life and liberty of the citizens of the United States unsafe. He gave notice that he would offer an amendment to the bill providing that the power granted by the constitution of Georgia to the General Assembly to change the time of holding elections and to prescribe the day for the meeting of the General Assembly shall not be so exercised as to postpone the election of members of the next General Assembly beyond the Tuesday after the first Monday in February, 1872. He explained that the object of the amendment was to give the loyal men who had been elected to the first Legislature their full two years of legislative service. He would treat the negroes who had been turned out of the Georgia Legislature precisely as he would have treated the loyal Legislature in 1861, if there had been one, who had been turned out by the rebels; that is, he would restore them to their positions and keep them there for their full time.

Mr. FARNSWORTH, (rep.) of Ill., another member of the Reconstruction Committee, argued against the bill, assuming that it was unnecessary, as Georgia was now entitled to a representation, and declaring that Congress had got itself far enough in a muddle with its reconstruction legislation, and that the sooner it was finished and the plainer it was made the better. He understood very well the object of the bill. It was got up on the theory that the admission of the Georgia members to the Fortieth Congress went for nothing, like Rip Van Winkle's dram, and that they were to come back and be sworn in for the Forty-first Congress. It was to prolong the tenure of office of certain gentlemen in Georgia, and the bill might as well be entitled that as anything else.

PETITIONS PRESENTED.

Without concluding his argument Mr. Farnsworth yielded the floor and petitions were presented as follows:—

By Mr. BIGGS, (dem.) of Del.—Of the citizens of Wilmington, Del., against a repeal of the navigation laws and in favor of a drawback on shipbuilding materials.

By Mr. MYERS, (rep.) of Pa.—Of the citizens of Philadelphia for pensions to the veterans of 1812; for specific rates of duties on books, and for an increase of the tariff on imported cigars.

The House then, at half-past four, adjourned until to-morrow.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Fighting for the Control of Excise and the Canals.

Proposed Extension of the Metropolis.

An Underground Railroad Scheme for Brooklyn.

ALBANY, March 4, 1870.

This one horse town this evening might aptly call to mind the stanza:—

I feel like one who treads alone
Some banquet hall deserted.

Both houses having adjourned over until Monday evening all the legislators, lobbyists, liquor dealers and loafers generally have departed.

THE EXCISE BILL.

The objections raised to the Excise bill before putting it on its final passage came chiefly from the country members, and the republicans took hold of the fact to delay its progress. Husted and Alvord jumped at the opportunity to get it recommitted to the Committee of the Whole at the last moment; but Jacobs and Fields were too smart for them, and got it sent to the Judiciary Committee, where it will be amended in five minutes. The amendment required is to strike out the words "town boards may grant licenses in villages within their respective towns." The countrymen did not like this, nor is there any necessity why it should be in the law at all. The bill may be considered finally passed.

STRINGENT RULES

as to the privileges of the floor were announced by the Speaker to-day. In future cards of admission will be issued, and if a doorkeeper admits any one not privileged without a card he will be dismissed. This was rendered necessary by the locust cloud of small lobbyists who infest the floor. A project for in Brooklyn was introduced by Mr. Mosely. The road is to run from some one of the ferries not yet selected to East New York. All right! Why should Brooklyn be behind her big sister?

AN UNDERGROUND RAILROAD

BERGH, BUTCHERS AND BEEF.

Bergh had a motion before the Committee on Public Health this morning asking for the appointment of three inspectors of meat. He thought that they should be medical men. James Irving, who was present, gave Bergh a bit of his mind. He said that in all experience in slaughtering cattle he never met a doctor who knew anything about beef, no more than a child of two years old. The inspectors, superintendents and clerks of markets should be butchers. One butcher in that capacity was worth a dozen doctors. Moreover, Mr. Irving declared that slaughter houses were less offensive and dangerous to public health than livery stables, because they were compelled to have a system of sewerage and an abundant flow of water in order to carry on the business. He cited the case that during the cholera time of 1832 there were comparatively few cases of the disease in the vicinity of slaughter houses.

Then the special order of the day, being

was called up, and the democratic leaders seemed determined to push the act through. This did not suit the leaders on the other side, of course, and Mr. Alvord, rising in his place, shaking his hoary locks and waving threateningly a quire or so of foolscap, said that he had a few words to say and wanted to be heard. The previous question was voted down on this matter, and it was noted again that the black sheep were on the side of the opposition. The Hon. Jake Hardenbergh was on the floor of the House watching the progress of his bill, and noted the hesitating and hirsute Hasbrouck false to his faith. A bill was introduced three days ago to prevent in Ulster county. It was not passed. 'Tis well, perhaps, that it was not, as the democratic ferret will no doubt be put upon the Hasbrouck rabbit, and will drive him out of the county. At least so it is reported. The canalers were on hand in full force, and were quite lively, when Mr. Jacobs called for the enforcement of the fifty-seventh rule, which directs that all persons not entitled to the privileges of the floor should retire. The floor was cleared by the Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistants, and after another series of legislative tactics the subject was made the special order for Tuesday morning next, when some more heavy wrangling may be expected.

HUNTING RABBITS WITH FERRETS

ANOTHER SLICE FOR NEW YORK CITY

is guaranteed in a bill introduced to-day by Mr. White, which provides for the taking of all that portion of the town of Yonkers south of the lands belonging to the Sisters of Charity, and making it a portion of the city and county of New York, and to be known as the Twenty-third ward. What the object of this move can be it is difficult to tell just yet, unless Mr. White has got some spite against some of the owners of country seats in the section alluded to and wants to give them an opportunity to pay the heavy city taxes. When the matter comes up in committee, however, he may possibly explain satisfactorily.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, March 4, 1870.

BILLS REPORTED.

By Mr. TWEED—Incorporating the New York Real Estate Exchange; also amending the charter of the Ladies' Aid Society of New York; also to amend the act improving Union street, Brooklyn.

By Mr. PIERCE—Extending the route of the Brooklyn, Hunter's Point and Prospect Park Railroad Company.

By Mr. BRADLEY—Amending the charter of the New York Indemnity Insurance Company.

BILL PASSED.

Amending the charter of the New York Institution for the Blind.

OGDENSBURG AND LAKE CHAMPLAIN RAILROAD.

Mr. C. F. NORTON moved an investigation into the matter of the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad leasing the road to the Vermont Central Railroad Company.

On motion of Mr. CHAPMAN it was laid on the table.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday evening next.

ASSEMBLY.

ALBANY, March 4, 1870.

BILLS PASSED.

Amending the act providing for the opening of streets in Flushing; chartering the St. John Baptist Benevolent Society of New York; amending the charter of the Broadway Savings Bank; chartering the Manhattan Market Company of New York city; requiring the Brooklyn Ferry Company to run boats on the South and other ferries throughout the night.

THE STATE EXCISE BILL.

The bill to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors was then taken up.

Mr. FIELDS moved the previous question on the passage of the bill, thus cutting off the amendments.

While the vote was being taken on the motion Mr. FIELDS stated that if there was not to be protracted opposition to the bill he would withdraw the motion for the previous question.

The CHAIR stated that that could not be done.

The motion ordering the previous question was lost—49 to 68.

Mr. JACOBS moved that the bill be recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. HUSTED moved its recommittal to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. JACOBS moved the question, which was carried, and Mr. Husted's motion was lost—45 to 68.

Mr. Jacobs' motion was then adopted.

THE CANAL CONTRACT SYSTEM.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill to abolish the Contracting Board and contract system on canals.

Mr. ALVORD submitted a minority report, together with a substitute for the bill.

Progress was reported and the subject was made the special order for Tuesday morning next.

THE PILOT COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. M. C. MURPHY moved that the Pilot Commissioners of New York report within ten days to the House the amount of money in their hands, and whether they have paid any to the families of deceased pilots, and if so, what amount thereof. Adopted.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

By Mr. FREAR—Chartering the New York Indemnity Company.

By Mr. WHITE—Erecting the Twenty-third ward of New York; also relative to elections in New York.

By Mr. MERCHANT—Allowing the New York and Midland Railroad Company to consolidate with other railroad companies.

By Mr. DROLL—To improve Greenpoint avenue, Brooklyn.

By Mr. O'KEEFE—Repealing the act of 1856 to appoint a clerk to take testimony in the Brooklyn courts.

By Mr. RONAN—Amending the charter of the Hudson River Bridge Company at Albany.

Adjourned till Monday evening at half-past seven o'clock.

SAILED.

The following vessels are anchored at Quarantine, outward bound:—Barks Caroline, for Havre; Dora, for Gibraltar; Minerva, for Rotterdam; brigs Thos Turull, for Mayaguez, PR; Harry Virdon, for Cardenas.

Shipping Notes.

On the 23d, 24th and 25th ult, 15 ships and 3 barks, from New Orleans, having 54,014 bales of cotton on board, passed over the bar at the Southwest Pass, most of which is for Liverpool.

Among the extraordinary voyages of our clipper ships, we notice that of the ship Swallow, Capt Danl McLoughlin, just arrived at this port. This splendid vessel, with a full cargo each way, made the run from this port to San Francisco, thence to Liverpool, returning to New York in the unprecedented time of 10 months and 7 days.

The clipper ship Flying Eagle, Capt Lewis, at San Francisco 3d inst, made the passage in 113 days from New York.

Marine Disasters.

SHIP LORENZO, Follansbee, from Baker's Island for Queenstown, which put into Honolulu leaky, and was subsequently repaired, had finished reloading her cargo 2d ult, and would proceed on her voyage in a few days.

BARK SCOTTISH BRIDE, at the Delaware Breakwater, had lost foretopgallant mast, which has since been refitted.

BRIG HARRIET, Gambril, at Baltimore from Mayaguez, reports experienced heavy weather on the coast. On the 19th ult, was boarded by a heavy sea, which stove boat; 27th, off Hatteras, saw quantities of wrecked stuff.

BRIG A E CARVER, before reported abandoned, and as subsequently drifting ashore to the southward of Cape Canaveral, had been got afloat by Capt Allen, but during a heavy storm she parted her cable and drifted ashore on the beach, where she lay at last accounts, high and dry. Wreckers were stripping her of her copper and materials.

BRIG IVANHOE (Br), at Holmes' Hole from Cardenas, experienced very heavy weather, lost and split sails, &c.

BRIG WM H PARKS, at Holmes' Hole from St Thomas, reports having experienced very heavy weather during the passage; lost jib and split sails.

SCHR CHAS COMERY, at Holmes' Hole, reports 20th ult, lat 34, lon 75, passed large quantities of wreck stuff, a vessel's rail, resembling a steamship's, bales of cotton, barrels, &c.

SCHR JOHN C BAXTER, from New York for Corpus Christi, before reported, was fallen in with Feb 20, in lat 32 12, lon 74 50, with loss of rudder and sails and leaking badly, by brig Harriet, from Mayaguez, which took off all hands and landed them at Baltimore 3d inst.

SCHR GEN SPRAGUE, Allen, from St Augustine, used in wrecking the brig A E Carver, parted her hawser while at anchor 10 miles south of Cape Carnaveral. She was seen next day abreast of the lighthouse, drifting seaward. The captain and crew were all on shore.

SCHR LOUISA REEVES, from Charleston for Wilmington, Del, lost sails, jibboom and foretopgallant mast off Hatteras, and put into Lewes, Del, 4th inst.

Miscellaneous.

Purser J W Carter, of the steamship James Adger, from Charleston, has our thanks for favors.

SUPPLEMENT No 1, containing additional surveys since the publication of the fourteenth volume of the American Lloyd's Universal Standard Record of Shipping, has been received from Captain Thos D Taylor, the Director of the Association, 35 Wall street. The surveys embrace 26 ships, 43 barks, 30 brigs, 42 schooners and 4 steamships.

Notice to Mariners.

U S LIGHTHOUSE DEPOT,
TOMPKINSVILLE, Staten Island, March 4, 1870.

The first class can buoy, red and black horizontal stripes, to mark the west side of entrance to Swash Channel, and the first class red can buoy, No 8, to mark the west side of Upper Middle, both of New York lower bay, and taken up Feb 24 for repairs, have been replaced in their proper positions, and the outer spar buoy, No 1, white and black perpendicular stripes, to mark the entrance to Rockaway Inlet, recently carried away from its station, has also been replaced.

By order of the Lighthouse Board,
CHARLES S BOGGS Lighthouse Inspector, 3d dist.

THE CORAL REEFS OF THE COAST OF FLORIDA.

The industry of the coral insects is making constant additions to the reefs along the Atlantic coast of Florida, and every now and then, in the lapse of time, new columns and pyramids of their construction show themselves within soundings, and finally reach the surface, before which period they are liable to be felt by shipping, steering by the latest charts. Capt Adams, in the steamship Morro Castle, found one of these plateaus rising from the deep sea outside, and connecting with the ancient rock, in lat 25 N, lon 80 W, on his last voyage out, causing a detention of some hours. There was no alarm, and very few knew that anything unusual was the matter.

Whalemen.

At Guadeloupe Feb 9, schrs Ellen P Simmons, Rising Sun, G H Phillips, Allie B Dyer. They start for black oil from the above port. Spoke schr N J Knights, 10 bbls sp oil this winter.
